Sterbenz proposes building $3 million aquaminium spa

by GLORIA DAVIS

The commercial community exploding on Rte. 173 in Antioch may have another addition soon if the village board approves a proposal for an "aquaminium resort" made by Dan and Joe Sterbenz.

The father and son duo, owners of the Antioch Bowl complex on Rte. 173, presented a drawing to the board that showed a three-phase resort complex, the total cost of which will be in the area of $3 million.

According to Dan Sterbenz, the resort will be an expansion of the Bowl on the Sequoit Harbor inlet to Channel Lake and then to the Chain O' Lakes.

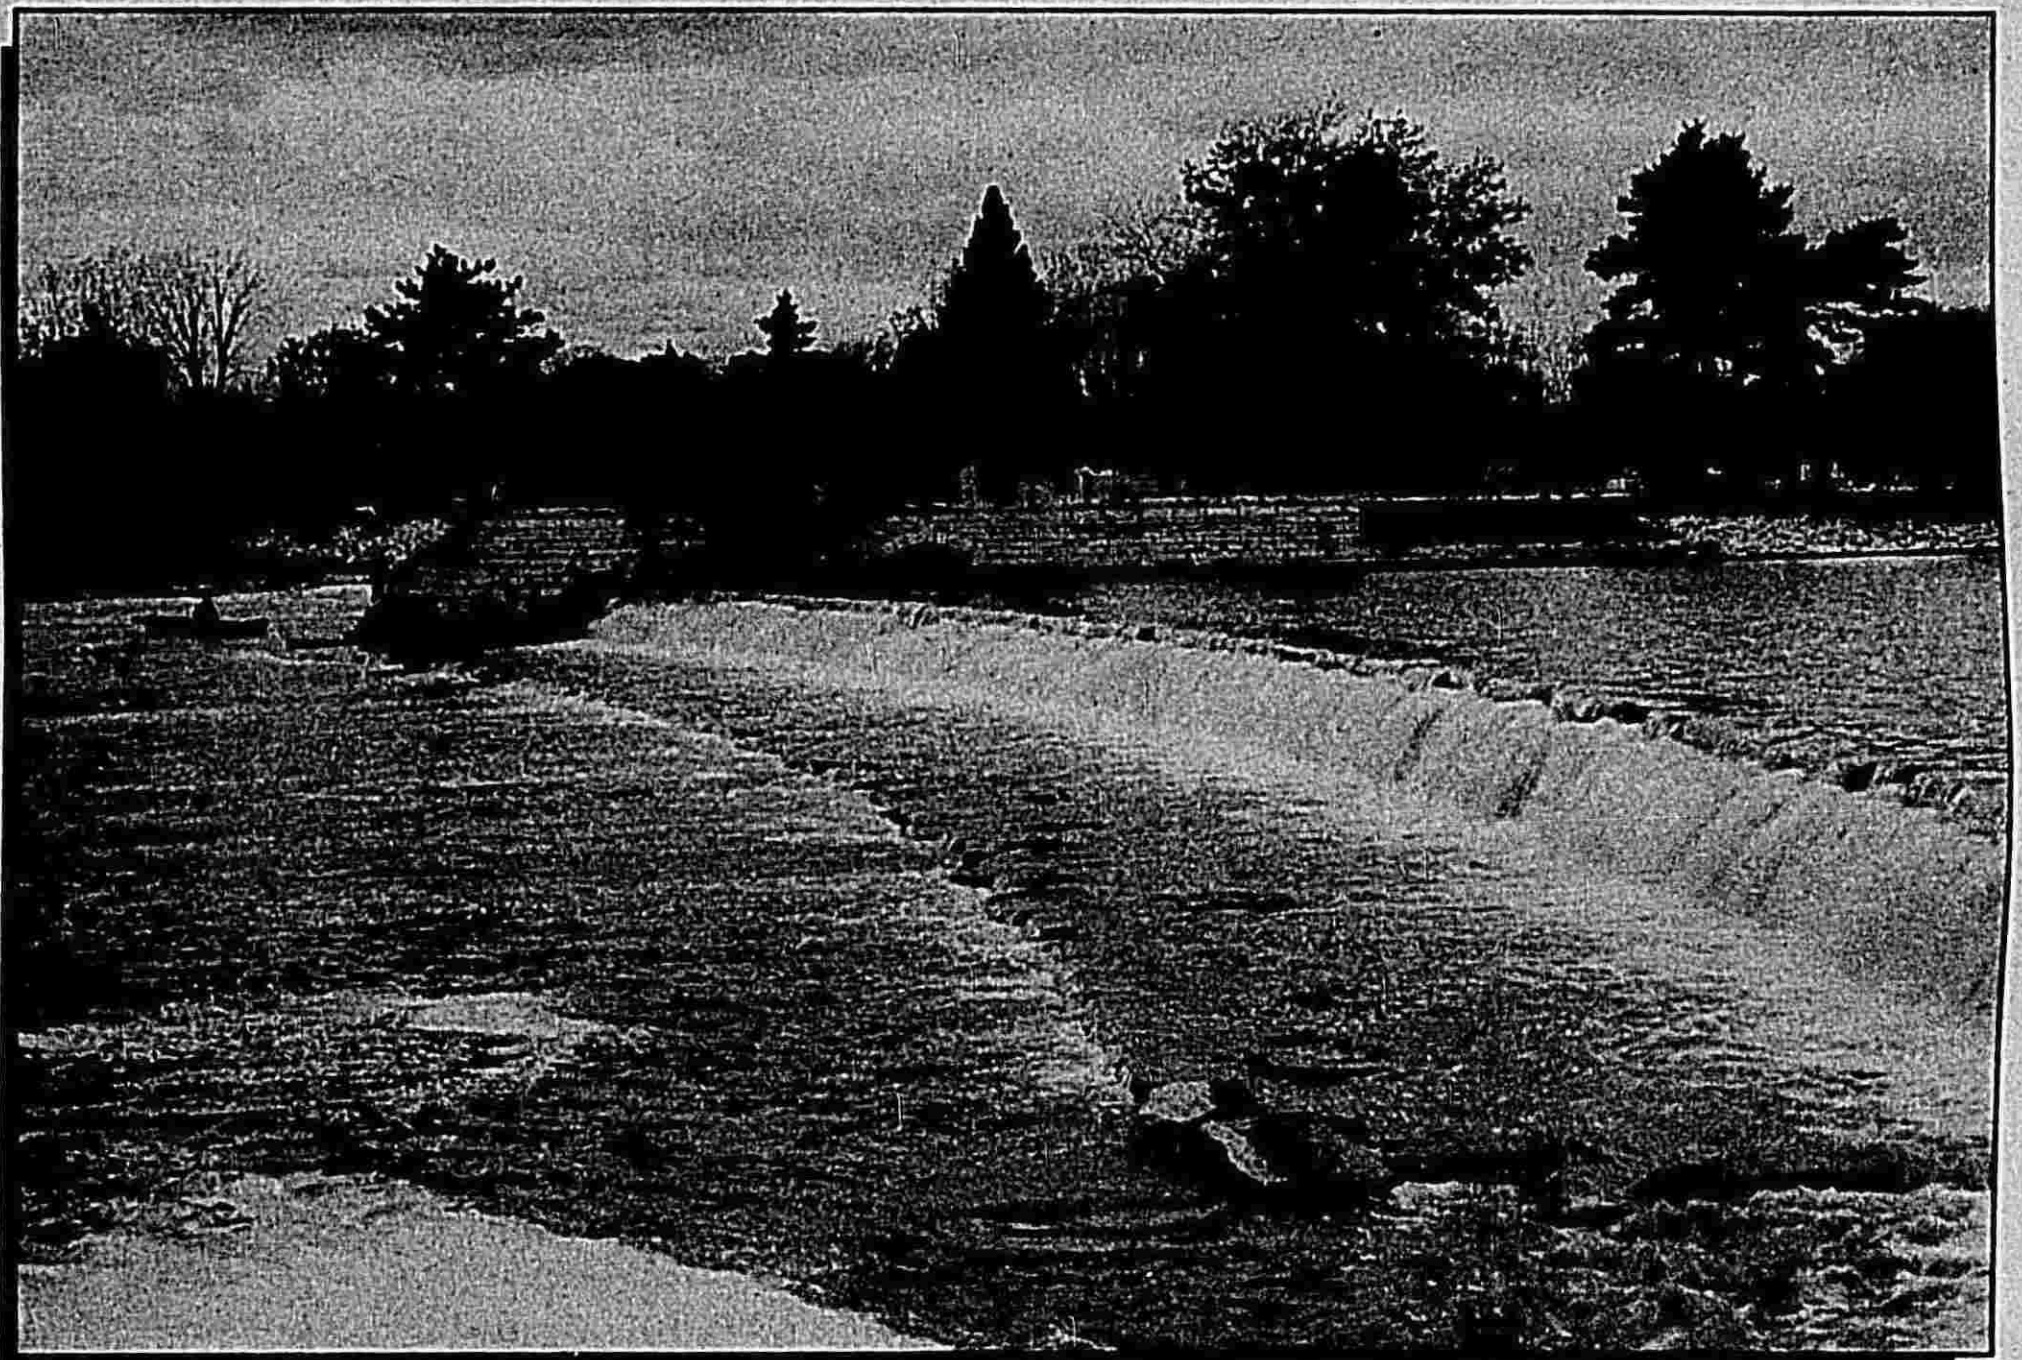

The first phase will have a harbor with 24 floating condominiums (house boats) for rent at $1,000 to $2,500.

Plans are for 24 more privately owned floating condos to also be docked in the harbor.

Two indoor swimming pools, one a lap pool with a running track around it and the other a recreational pool and also one outdoor pool come under phase one.

The expansion of what used to be Huck's Back Room into a nightclub and a marina which includes a harbor supply store will complete the $1.6 first phase.

"We would like to get started on selling the boats and space by January and then start construction as soon as possible," said Sterbenz.

Grass Lake nixes tax hike, spurns 19-year incumbent

by GLORIA DAVIS

Of the four contenders for three seats in the Nov. 3 Grass Lake School Board of Education election, one of the two incumbents, John Steitz, was the loser.

Steitz had been on the board for 19 years. The other incumbent running, Ardeen Harris, was reelected.

Several school district electors took out a newspaper ad the week before the election endorsing Harris and two other candidates, Marie Bausam and Don Grob, although they were running individually and not as a slate.

The candidates claim they had nothing to do with the ad but are grateful since all three of them won the election.

Grob was the leading vote getter with 316, followed by Harris with 305 and Bausam with 304. Steitz was way behind, receiving only 168 votes.

A 50-cent tax rate raise referendum was narrowly turned down by the voters, with 218 electors voting against the tax raise and 213 voting yes.

Supt. Anthony Przeklasa said that the new board would have to take a real look at things since "we have already cut expenses to the bone with a 20 percent staff cut last year in the release of one and one-half teachers."

He also said that since this was the first such referendum run by the district in 11-and-one-half years, "things went well with the vote being so close."

The new board members say they will have to take a look at the budget, etc., and see what can be done. A few months ago the school board cut some programs to save money but they were reinstated after a loud cry from the electors many of whom vocally favored a tax rate increase over a program cut.

It will be March before another referendum can be up for voter approval.

Major NIH grant awarded to Chicago Medical School

University of Health Sciences/The Chicago Medical School has announced that it had received a three-year grant of approximately $400,000 from the National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute of the National Institutes of Health.

The award was made to Dr. Max Harry Weil, MD, PhD, professor and chairman of the Department of Medicine at the Medical School, and chief of the department's Division of Cardiology. He is the principal investigator. Co-investigator is Dr. Eric C. Rackow, MD, professor and vice chairman of the Department of Medicine and chief of its division of Critical Care. Both are internationally recognized cardiologists and critical care specialists.

According to Dr. Weil, the studies that are planned are part of a continuing commitment by his research group to investigate the mechanisms associated with cardiac arrest and more effective methods of cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR).

Specifically, he says, the team is to study the chemical and muscle contraction functions of the heart muscle during cardiac arrest and how these can be tested to improve the success of cardiopulmonary resuscitation. Dr. Weil and his associates have previously discovered that carbon dioxide accumulates in the heart muscle. They are also world recognized, more generally, for more than 25 years of pioneering work in lactic acid metabolism during shock and cardiac arrest.

In addition to Dr. Rackow, Dr. Weil's research team includes Martin von Planta, MD, and Raul J. Gazmuri, MD, research fellows in the Department of Medicine; Joe Bisera, MSEE, project manager and biomedical engineer in the department; and Sally Bruno, MS, research technician.

The grant was announced by Marshall A. Falk, MD, executive vice president and dean of University of Health Sciences/The Chicago Medical School. Its official designation is "Myocardial Acid-Base Changes During CPR."

Group for separated

Helpmates, a new support group for separated, divorced and widowed singles, meets at Redeemer Lutheran Church of Waukegan, 620 Grove, every Monday night at 8 p.m. The group offers small group discussions, Bible class and socials. The group also gives singles the opportunity to develop friendships with other singles in similar circumstances. Helpmates, nondenominational and nonprofit, is sponsored by the Waukegan Area Lutheran Pastors Assn. Founder Terry Kulat will be the guest leader this week. For more information call Pastor Mark at (312) 336-4891. Newcomers are welcome.

One Monday last month
in our Maternity Center
we delivered
3 potential sopranos,
2 blue-eyed heartbreakers,
a pair of future placekickers
...and the twelfth
in a series...

To be continued?

When we first opened our Maternity Center—nearly three decades ago—the only people involved in the birth of a new baby were the mother, her doctor and our specialized staff. But times have changed. And since then, we've helped many newborns... and many new birthing options... come to life.

But while we continue to grow with the times by offering the latest, most up-to-date birthing plans and obstetric services available, some things will never change.

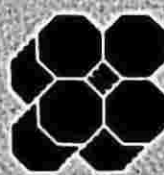

We'll always take the time to mother every baby, baby every mother... and pamper the rest of the family, too. We offer special classes and support programs for mothers, fathers, siblings, even grandparents—on all aspects of the birth experience.

We also have refresher courses—for the many families who come back to us again.

And again.

For more information about NIMC's Maternity Center, write to us... or call us

Complete first year in soccer

Antioch Upper Grade successfully completed its first year in an organized conference soccer program; the team and coaches did a great job. They started the season strong with three wins in a row. Antioch lost a tough one to Lake Villa but came back strong to become the conference champs with a record of 7-1. The coaches, Mrs. Hewitt and head coach, Mrs. Sorlie, are looking forward to next season when they hope to repeat this year's performance.

Christmas Bazaar

The Altar and Rosary Society of St. Joseph's Church in Richmond will hold a Christmas Bazaar from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 7, in the church hall, Rtes. 173 and 12. Featured booths will be sweet shop, home and Christmas crafts, Grandma's Attic, and religious goods. A light luncheon will be available.

Three Eagle Scouts work on projects at AUGs

There are three Eagle Scouts from Antioch Troop 92 that have completed and are working on Scout projects at Antioch Upper Grade School.

Brian W. Clark has completed his very impressive and strong bridge over Sequoit Creek at the Upper Grade School. His project began last November and was finished this last spring. He was presented with his Eagle Scout badge at an awards ceremony at Antioch Moose Hall. Thank you Brian for a job well done.

Steve Goetzelman had completed two nature trails along Sequoit Creek. These trails begin at Clark's bridge and will be used by countless students from the elementary and upper grade schools. Goetzelman's project took most of the summer to complete. He cleared brush and several downed trees to make two very impressive nature trails following the creek. He then laid wood chips along the course of the trails to make a soft bed and to prevent any erosion along the trail. Steve will be presented with his eagle scout badge some time before spring.

The third Eagle is Matt Aschbacher who is presently working on the construction of 20 wood duck nests to be placed along the creek and in the marsh area behind the Petty Elementary School. Aschbacher and Troop 92 have for several years worked with Chain 'O

Lakes State Park on a wood duck project. He is now bringing his knowledge back to the district by constructing and placing these nests where they will be most visible and will be most useful. Aschbacher is presently working on this project with the help of several other scouts from Troop 92. He will probably receive his Eagle Scout badge this January.

Senior bazaar makes money for Antioch Senior Center

The Antioch Senior Center's Christmas Bazaar was a huge success. The two-day bazaar on Oct. 23 and 24 was fun for all involved and the center made some money to boot.

The staff at the center would like to thank the bazaar chairperson, Betty Hentschel, for her great job in organizing the bazaar. They would also like to thank her 36 workers who ran the two-day bazaar.

The center's staff wants to thank all those people who baked cakes, made crafts, donated rummage, participated in the contests and came to the bazaar to support it.

Thanks to the Village of Antioch and the Antioch community at large for their help and support.

Part of the proceeds will immediately go to the purchase of a much needed new refrigerator for the Senior Center.

In closing, the center welcomes all seniors to visit the center and also welcomes any community member who may be interested in finding out what programs the Antioch Senior Center has to offer.

Call ACHS's Blecke 'outstanding educator'

Arthur E. Blecke, principal, Antioch Community High School, has been named one of 52 outstanding secondary school principals in a unique national project to honor quality educators.

One hundred and two outstanding teachers and secondary school principals were announced in the fourth annual "In Honor of Excellence" project, the nation's only joint recognition program of teachers and principals.

It is sponsored by Burger King Corp., the National Assn. of Secondary School Principals and the Council of Chief State School Officers.

Bleck received his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Illinois and Loyola University respectively.

AUGS softball in tie for 1st

The 1987 Antioch Grade School Girls Softball team ended their season by beating Woodland and thus finishing with an 8-2 record. Antioch tied for first place in the conference with Gavin.

The team had excellent pitching by Kathy Glenn and Dawn Morley. Antioch excelled in other areas also.

Jodi Eckert, Malissa Good and April Kilman led the team in the hitting department by scoring RBI's in crucial situations.

Antioch also welcomed a very talented sixth grade group. They seemed to catch on to the skills quickly and they helped the softball team a great deal. Overall the team did a fine job!

The 1987 Girls Softball team included eighth graders Crystal Cox, Andrea Dydo, Jodi Eckert, Kathy Glenn, Malissa Good, April Kilman; seventh grader Dawn Morley; sixth graders Amy Glenn, Maline Gooch, Nicole Haenchen, Nicole Hallwas, Kathy Holmes, Patti Kendziora and Kirsten Peterson. The manager is Kathy James and the coach is Miss Hill.

The softball team would like to thank Mr. Ochwat for helping the team out on Wednesdays and during games. Without his help the team would have been most certainly at a loss.

Gander sends out catalog

Gander Mountain's Christmas catalog, featuring six pages of special Ducks Unlimited items, is in the mail.

The 96-page catalog marks the first joint venture between Gander Mountain and Ducks Unlimited. The special DU section carried upgraded quality merchandise developed to meet the high standards necessary to carry a DU logo.

"It is a privilege to share Ducks Unlimited's identity and products with our loyal customers, while also being able to reach DU's outdoor enthusiasts with out merchandise," said Jim Stuart, Gander Mountain vice president and general manager.

"We expect positive reactions from both Gander customers and DU members," he said.

The catalog has been mailed to Gander's list as well as to Ducks Unlimited's approximately 600,000 members.

The Christmas edition also features outdoorsman gift ideas, special edition Browning guns and Gander's send-a-gift service.

Anyone not already on the mailing list may request a catalog by writing to Gander Mountain Inc. at P.O. Box 6, Wilmet, Wis., 53192.

Motor fuel tax

Lake County has been allotted $319,177.96 as its share of motor fuel tax for September according to the Illinois Dept. of Transportation. Motor fuel tax funds are allocated monthly to counties in Illinois for their highway needs. The monies are allocated based on motor vehicle registration fees.

AUGS elects student council

The 1987-88 Antioch Upper Grade School Student Council officers are: President Andy Haley, Vice President Nate Ovitt, Secretary Andrea Dydo and Treasurer Jonna Walsh.

Student Council is planning a sock hop for November. We are also investigating the purchase of a programmable sign for messages to be mounted either in the L.L.C. or the cafeteria. The orders for sweat-shirts, jackets and t-shirts in school colors has been sent in. We expect delivery in the near future.

The following students have been elected to the 1987-88 student council: eighth grade: Mike Bivona, Brett Erdman, Chris Kelly, Andy Haley, Brian Nelson, Nathan Ovitt, Greg Zalapi, Jenny Cullen, Andrea Dydo, Julie Forrest, Katy Fox, Renae Hoerle, Heidi Heiselman, Jonna Walsh, Eric Nelson and John Stedl.

Members in seventh grade are: Adam Lips, Megan Bivona, Dan Yanca, Sara Garrison, Ben Krenke, Kelly Seidler, Dan Nelson, Lisa Alberts, Matt Rogen-schutz, Charlotte Berger, Craig Regnier, Sarah Peterson, Ed Purtell, Erika Boehm, and Tom Hovey.

In sixth grade are: Jon Camp, Jim Dawe, Stephen Glover, Marty Kuhn, Brady Maher, Cliff Moore, Karl Siebel, Tamara Allen, Heather Bradley, Keri Gaa, Megann Haley, Heather Haras, Lisa Heywood, Jenny Hunt and Stephanie Witwicki.

Millburn examines scores for second report card

Staff members and administration at Millburn School are evaluating results from the state's second report card to see where the school needs work in specific program areas.

Copies of the second state report card, which was created with the passing of the 1985 Illinois Education Reform Act, are available at the school.

"Now that we have two consecutive years to evaluate, the staff will be reviewing the report card to see where there may need to be improvements," Supt. Lee Smithy said in a letter to parents explaining the report card.

Using the Stanford Achievement test forms, the single highest ranking for the students came in eighth grade's vocabulary section. There, 41 percent tested in the top quartile of the state results. Also in that category, 47 percent tested in the second quartile.

The tests are administered in third, sixth and eighth grades. This year, the middle two portions of the results are listed.

In other areas for the eighth graders, 31.6 tested in the top quartile as was the result for science. In social science, 36.8 percent tested in the top quarter and in reading comprehension, 31.6 tested in the top quarter.

For the sixth graders, the reading comprehension portion showed 31.3 percent testing in the top quarter. Mathematics, science and social science all had 25 percent in the top group but in vocabulary, only 12.5 tested in the high rank.

For the third graders, 27.8 percent tested in the top quartile for vocabulary.

Millburn school students are competitive with the state average for attendance rate. The Millburn rate was 95.9 percent, slightly above the state average.

The district had an 11 percent student mobility rate, or the number of students moving out of the district.

The class size ratios are the bright spot on the report card for Millburn. In all but one grade, they are below the state averages.

"This is something our community takes pride in at Millburn," Smithy's report said.

Combining of classes also helped to reduce average class size.

In kindergarten, the district's average was 15.5 compared to the state's 22.2; in first grade Millburn's 12.5 was almost 10 better than the state's 23.2; in third grade, Millburn's average was 22 compared to the state's 23.5; in sixth, Millburn had a 11.5 average, half of the state's 23.3. The only grade level in which the Millburn average topped the state's was in eighth, 22 for Millburn compared to 20.1 for the state.

In a new reporting category this year, the state gives a breakdown of teacher's experience in addition to salaries.

A young staff at Millburn has led to an average experience years of 11.4 compared to the state's 15.2. The majority of Millburn teachers have bachelor's degrees but do not have masters. The report card showed 88.2 percent of the staff with bachelor's degrees while only 11.8 percent had masters.

In salaries, the average for Millburn was $19,988 while the state's average was $28,302. The state average, though, also includes high schools, whose salary averages tend to be higher than elementary districts.

It cost Millburn $3,530 to educate each student which was below the state's average by some $3,000.

The district had total expenditures of $869,310 for 1985-86. Budget breakdown show the education fund accounted for 54 percent of the budget. Improvements to the site were responsible for a 14 percent site and construction fund.

Fisher will talk shop

The Antioch Area Chapter 387 of the American Assn. of Retired People (AARP) with members from southeastern Wisconsin as well as Illinois, will have a regular business meeting starting at 10:30 a.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 10 followed by a "Brown Bag Lunch" at noon.

After lunch, Robert Ullrich will present a film on the subject of crime, narrated by Lt. Tom Fisher, a police officer in Antioch.

Members are requested to bring canned goods to this meeting for the annual canned goods drive. This collection of good is to fill baskets for needy local families.

What a super Halloween! The weatherman cooperated holding off the rain until 'Trick or Treat' time was over. The Antioch Sequoias beat Niles North, 28-19. The Antioch Jaycees Haunted House was so good it kept the youngsters coming back again and again. From the young ones point of view, "all is right with the world!" It was a nice weekend even though the rain and fog made traveling to parties a little more difficult, and to put "frosting on the cake," the Chicago Bears

One casualty of the rainy weather and the mud it created was the running game of the Antioch Vikings Heavyweight Team. After trouncing Fox Lake, which is in a rebuilding year, 38-6, in the quarterfinals of the Northern Illinois Junior Tackle Football League Playoffs, the Vikings came head-to-head with Highland Park on a field that had become a quagmire.

Although both teams played very well, at the end Highland Park had the winning number, 8-0, on a pass they had gotten off in the second quarter together with PAT.

6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 24.

In Girls Iceless Hockey play-results as of Oct. 30:

First and second grade: Rangers 4, Sabers 2; North Stars 9, Maples Leafs 2; Kings 7, Blackhawks 4; and Bruins 5, Red Wings 4.

Third through fifth grade-Red Division: Rangers 9, Sabers 0; Red Wings 14, Whalers 2; and Blackhawks 3, Islanders 3.

Third through fifth grade-Yellow Division: Bruins 9, Flyers 4; Blackhawks 4, Whalers 0; and Red Wings 3, Islanders 2.

St. Peters schedules shot clinic

The Lake County Health Dept. offers free immunization clinics to be held at St. Peters Church Hall in Antioch on Nov. 18, from 9 to 11:30 a.m.

No appointment is necessary. Parents or guardians must accompany all children. Children can be immunized against polio, diphtheria, tetanus, measles, mumps and rubella (German measles).

Parents are asked to bring their children's past immunization records. If a child has an immunization letter from the school nurse, it should also be brought to the session. For further information, call the Lake County Health Dept. Communicable Disease Program, (312)360-6761.

In the rest of the game Antioch held Highland Park to a couple of first downs. So ends the 1987 Viking season; the Viks have an excellent 6-2 overall record and possession of second place.

Defensive standouts were: guard Mike Stahmer, linebackers Jeff Fogel and Tim Lehn, and tackle Brian Smith.

Speaking for himself and helpers Jerry Pankaukas, Jim Houghton and Rick Johnson, head coach Nick Pappadakis said, "It was a very successful season; we look forward to next year."

Now comes the hard part—collection and storage of all the equipment used by the over 100 young athletes in the Viking program. The logistics is staggering. Our town is fortunate to have such a dedicated group of men and women working voluntarily to provide such a wonderful athletic opportunity to our youth! Thanks!

Coming up! Viking Awards Night at ACHS.

Soccer excitement

Big Brothers, Sisters recognize volunteers

Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Lake County held its annual Volunteer Recognition Brunch on Sunday, Oct. 18 at Marriott's Lincolnshire Resort. The agency recognized the many dedicated volunteers whose big hearts and generous giving of time and talents provide the adult half of the unique friendships of Bigs and Littles.

Adults become Big Brothers/Big Sisters when they extend themselves to befriend the "Littles" who are children from single parent homes in Lake County.

The keynote address was given by Wilbur H. Gantz, president of Baxter Healthcare. He spoke on the importance of the gifts shared by volunteers. The life changing significance of these relationships was highlighted.

Saralynn Reedy, executive director, honored the board members and committee volunteers. All volunteers received certificates of appreciation.

The Friendship Award was presented to Big Brother George Hudson and Little Brother Shanco. This award is a symbol token of appreciation for all volunteer Big Brothers/Big Sisters. A representative who has consistently demonstrated the qualities of the one-to-one friendship-commitment, dependability and trust is selected each year.

George Hudson has been matched with 13-year-old Little Brother Shanco since September, 1985. Hudson wished to be a positive role model for a young boy, providing support for the emotional development of a child entering the critical, pre-adolescent years which are often confusing, frustrating and difficult.

The youngest of five children, Shanco wanted a Big Brother to be his friend, someone who would really be there for him. Ann had many reasons for applying for the program on her son's behalf. Working full time and having a large family left little individual time for Shanco. Ann was concerned about the negative influences of drugs, alcohol and crime which her son needed to avoid. She hoped that a Big Brother would support Shanco in making good decisions.

Big Brother Hudson saw that building Shanco's self-esteem and self-confidence was the goal in helping Shanco realize his full potential. Hudson's new home, which was in need of some remodeling, was an excellent opportunity for Hudson to utilize his skills as a carpenter and, at the same time, teach Shanco problem solving skills, planning and teamwork. With each finished project, Shanco's expression of self-worth and self-pride grew. A child of very few words was now able to talk openly about his many accomplishments with his family and friends.

Hudson and Shanco, in representing the meaningful Big Brother/Little Brother relationship, received plaques and a gift.

Special "thank yous" go to Bob Slipke of Ke Video Productions for capturing all the happenings of the day with photographs; Curtis Saller from Polaroid

Corp. for donating a camera to Big Brother George and Little Brother Shanco; Morris Singleton of Ace Engraving & Special Co. for the plaques; and to the members of the program/planning and evaluation committee: Denise Battles, Ty Belmont, Peg Wong, Bev Brock, JoAnn Boyda and Linda Moss for arranging the days events.

All big hearted individuals wanting to support this early intervention program are encouraged to contact Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Lake County at (312) 360-0770.

Packaged vacation-- is it for you?

by JIM WARNKEN

President, North Star Travel Inc.

That dream vacation to Hawaii is almost a reality. You know which island you most want to visit. You even know which hotels offer accommodations which most meet your desires. Now the question is: Should I go with the Thompson Vacation Package my travel agent recommended, or should I ask him to make separate reservations with the airline, hotel and car rental agency?

There are several factors to consider. If price is your number one concern, a package is usually (though not always) your best bet.

First let me define a "package vacation." Package vacations are offered by tour operators such as Thompsons Vacation, MTI and Funway. These packages usually include your airfare, hotel and transportation from the airport to your hotel. Some include a rental car. These tour operators are actually wholesalers and market their products only through travel agencies. Most tour operators either operate Charter Flights or purchase large quantities of seats on a commercial carrier allowing for a much lower air cost.

They also get volume rates on hotel rooms and car rentals. Many have their own vans to transport travelers to their hotel rooms. All this allows them to sell a total package at a much lower price than booking each item separately.

There are many tour operators offering packages to the same destination. Most even use the same hotels and the same airlines. In comparing one package with another, make sure you read the fine print. Some include all hotel taxes and tips, while others do not. This could add up to 18 percent to the cost of the room! Others will include either free tours or two for one deals. Certain tour operators do not show the $9 fuel tax from Chicago in their advertised price, but do charge it. Others will advertise prices which are only good for mid-week travel. Still, price-wise, packages are the way to go.

So why even consider booking everything separately? If your package is using a charter flight, you are limited as to what days you can travel. The length of your trip is limited to what is offered in the package. You must stay in a hotel offered by the tour operator. That overnight stay in San Francisco on your way to Hawaii may not be allowed.

Most of the time this is not a problem as there are enough tour operators offering a wide variety of programs that you're likely to find one to meet your needs. Most offer some flexibility so if you want to use a hotel not in their program, they may be able to request it.

A final word of caution. In these days of business failures and "fly by night" travel scams, make certain you are dealing with a bonded, airline appointed travel agent. Further, insist that your agent book your trip with a tour operator who is also bonded and ideally a member of ASTA's Tour Protection Plan. If either the travel agent or the tour operator ceases business, your hard earned money could be lost and your dream vacation could become a nightmare.

Forum on 'the bubble'

Local business persons have an unusual opportunity to speak out on their problems at a forum designed to provide input into what is needed to improve the business climate in Illinois. If they don't take advantage of a meeting Thursday, Nov. 12, at the College of Lake County, the grassroots project might be abandoned.

Originators of the Governor's Small Business Roundtable were disappointed in the response at the first convocation held recently in downstate Decatur. They're making no bones about the fact that the meeting next week at the Grayslake campus of CLC is a make or break proposition.

From our perspective, the meeting

Repackaging wetlands

Even as such important wetlands in southwestern Lake County as the Cuba Marsh and Ela Marsh are threatened with extinction in the onslaught of commercial development, noteworthy strides are being taken along the Des Plaines River near Wadsworth to create artificial wetlands.

In the near future, work will be completed on the construction of eight experimental man-made wetlands ranging in size from four to 11.5 acres that could well serve as models for future wetlands restoration. Scientists and engineers are confident that they can restore all or most of the flora and fauna of the natural wetlands. Aim of the project is to aid flood control, water quality enhancement and provide a habitat for fish and natural vegetation.

As we mentioned in this space sometime ago, there is a growing realization on the part of both ofcialdom and the public that wetlands are vital. Health and safety, indeed, are in jeopardy without these important natural resources. One cannot help but wonder though, depending upon the success of the man-made Wadsworth wetlands, that we might have reached the point where wetlands can be done away with, repackaged or recycled elsewhere, much like modern medicine has made organ transplants commonplace.

The Roundtable, made up of successful businessmen from around the state, is an excellent device for providing political leaders with useful information and guidance. We hope Lake County business people respond in large numbers to keep the forums going. We urge their attendance Nov. 12.

Sense of relief

There is a sense of relief that St. Therese Hospital, long troubled by the same financial problems that are plaguing the hospital industry in general, is being acquired by the Franciscan Sisters Health Care Corp. Final details of the transaction involving the nearly 60-year-old hospital in Waukegan and the St. Therese Area Trauma Satellite in Lake Villa are being worked out.

Considering that St. Therese is a major health care provider in a growing area, prospects of closing as had been rumored were remote. More of a possibility was that the hospital would have to be sold to a corporation that would not be obliged to carry on the religious tradition of St. Therese and operate under the moral principals of a church affiliated institution. Now those fears can be put to rest.

The Franciscan Sisters operate hospitals elsewhere in Illinois and Indiana from a strong financial base. They are to be welcomed warmly in this locality. At the same time, the Missionary Sisters Servants of the Holy Spirit, the religious order operating St. Therese since its founding in 1929, deserve thanks for good and faithful service to our community.

Letters To The Editor

No benefit Editor:

Recently the mayor of Mundelein asked the Lake County Board to approve the purchase of the Cow Path by the Forest Preserve. Later the mayor expressed that the Village of Mundelein took a beating when the Lake County Board voted 12-4 to exclude 40 acres from the purchase. The mayor took one board member to task for such a resounding defeat.

Although I don't always agree with Mr. Hansen, he certainly did not deserve such a verbal lashing by the mayor. The truth of the matter is the Village of Mundelein was not prepared for this board meeting. The attorney for the village choose to attack a land developer rather than pointing out to the board the benefits to the Forest Preserve in purchasing the property. Could it be there weren't any benefits to the residents of Lake County?

Market mania: even non-players are affected

by BILL SCHROEDER

One thing about the stock market, it's rarely static. It's been going up, up, up a long time and as almost everyone knows, it can go down, too, with devastating results.

That's the trouble with the stock market. Everyone reacts, even if they're not players in the game. Therein lies a good bit of the problem, in our opinion, with the stock market. So much of it is psychological. The stock market serves an important function in our economic system, but there's too much of a Las Vegas mentality about it.

A couple of bad Mondays and a lot of people were preparing for the worst. The national media trumpeted--"Another 1929-style Crash." Poppycock. Big difference: Following Black Monday, the Federal Reserve System moved immediately to ease credit. In '29, the Fed actually tightened credit.

Banks here and elsewhere experienced the phenomenon of some depositors, perhaps less sophisticated and educated, withdrawing their savings. Local bankers told us about frightened depositors who took their money home, not only an unnecessary but a dangerous reaction. There was no reason to be afraid. That's the pity of it all and a result of a sensation-seeking media dwelling on only one part of the economy. I don't like that.

The market, bloated and over-extended by high rolling speculators, was long overdue for an adjustment. Coupled with honest budget and trade deficit concerns, a growing uncertainty about the future created an atmosphere where an avalanche of selling might take place. And it did. Did pre-programmed computer selling have something to do with the crash? Perhaps. Talk of manipulators in Chicago having some influence is being investigated. In reality, it was probably a number of factors coming together at the same time by coincidence that contributed to the financial holocaust that saw $600 billion in stock values wiped out.

One of our personal theories about overall business conditions and the state of public confidence is watching what happens to gold and silver. The Crash of Oct. 19 did not precipitate a dash to acquire gold. We can recall the dark days of the Carter administration, when inflation was running wild, that gold prices skyrocketed. Many Americans were genuinely frightened then. The nation came very close to a genuine panic in the late 1970s. The media pundits haven't talked about those dark days. Why not talk about high unemployment, stability of our financial institutions, investment opportunities in real estate and other instruments?

If anything, Oct. 19 provided a return to reality. That day and subsequent events should be a learning experience for our nation and the overwhelming majority of Americans who didn't lose a cent.

HELP SHORTAGE—It'll be about nine more years before the chronic help shortage eases for America's fast food outlets, according to Glen Swanson, a major investor and executive with a company that operates 19 Hardee's restaurants in Illinois and Wisconsin.

It will take that long for the age mixture to change in favor of available help for the fast food chains. The typical Hardee's, like the one opening in Grayslake Nov. 9, requires 75 to 85 full and part-time people to operate. It isn't easy rounding up that many people in a locality where unemployment is minimal. Swanson's firm has outlets at Twin Lakes, Antioch, Mundelein and Zion in this locality.

What politicians start, electorate will finish

PARK CITY VOTERS chose overwhelmingly to approve adding a provision to recall elections to their city's ordinances. Mayor Virginia Kennedy, who has a reputation for abrasiveness, was the spark behind this initiative.

Alderman Sherrill Tripp was an enthusiastic supporter of the ordinance. Staff members here tell me that Tripp lusts after the mayor's seat.

Of course, even if Kennedy is recalled, it can't happen until late next spring. Thus, a new mayor chosen in a special election would have less than a year to serve before the regular election.

Certainly, there are people who sincerely believe in the recall process but there are others who look for political advantage. It will be amusing to see how some of the more vociferous advocates react if recall rises up some time in the future to but them in the tail.

Out west, recall is common and it does not seem to have shaken the foundations of their political systems. Still, any home rule community can adopt a recall ordinance. What started as a political reaction to an unpopular mayor may become a powerful tool in the hands of voters.

I have asked Rudy Magna Jr. of Gurnee, who is Park City's attorney, to do a guest column in the next few weeks on how recall works. He drafted the ordinance for the city council. It will undoubtedly be of interest to every politician in the county.

FOX LAKE MAYOR William Dam will be taking a trip next Monday. He is one of the invited guests to attend Sen. Robert Dole's formal announcement of his candidacy for President.

Dam and his wife, Meredith, have been actively supporting Dole in Lake County. The Kansas Republican is considered to be neck and neck with front-runner George Bush.

The announcement will come in Dole's home town, Russell, Kansas. Dam said he considered himself fortunate to be invited as he is "just a spear carrier in the Republican Party."

I got a chuckle out of that. Dam is one of the most ambitious men in the county. Smart money has it that he is looking to run for Congress or for an appointment in Washington one of these days.

So I wish our modest spear carrier well in his trip to Kansas.

When rights and benevolence clash, balancing is difficult

Dr. Oltimer was still being congratulated and receiving best wishes on his retirement when the doctors met for their weekly dinner.

Dr. Youngfren expressed our sentiments, "We hate to see you hang up your stethoscope. There's not one of us whom you haven't helped in some way."

Dr. Whinerk asked, "Were the good old days really that good?"

Dr. Oltimer said, "As you know the good old days were never as good as old men remember them. The freedom to practice medicine with good will and the monitoring by your peers has given way to a sort of Big Brother watching you. We helped each other more and focused on the patient. The indigent as legally enforceable claims on the attention, actions, and resources of others. That may be true, but bureaucracy or not I'll file the forms and treat my patients."

Dr. Oltimer reminisced, "Early in my practice I took care of an ill, elderly physician. By the nature of things I also took care of this benevolent gentleman's Medicaid patients in a convalescent home. He had laid in a stock of medicine and when appropriate I would okay the attending nurse's request for simple things like cathartics or cough syrups. At other times I would write prescriptions and the pharmacist would bill the doctor. I later found out that the good doctor charged the state one dollar per month per patient for all medications. A lady from Medicaid called me and asked for invoices to prove that the dollar per month did not exceed the cost plus 10 percent that regulations called for. Bemused, I asked if this dollar sounded like the old doc was cheating the state. You got it: 'The law must be obeyed.' I had no invoices and wasn't about to bother the dying old gentleman or his wife. I wrote prescriptions thereafter and the pharmacist billed the state. One of the prescriptions, I know, was eight dollars. So early on, I learned government control and rigid regulation by a bureaucracy results in increased costs."

Youngfren said, "Dr. Robert B. Howard believes that when rights are pursued there is built up a group of people watching medical care as a whole, comparing and setting it's standards. The public-at-large feels that medical care should be without flaw or unfortunate result. Its expectation is for perfect care with guaranteed results and at a fixed low cost. In our present tendency to sue, the doctor is in the uncomfortable position that he will be in court if he can't satisfy these impossible requirements. I'm proud to say that despite all this, every one of us continues to render service."

MUSINGS: Dr. Wirtuos summed up. "There is continuity between the old and the new. The doctor still shows a constant good will and the patient knows it. Who responds night and day for the medically or surgically ill? Who subjects himself or herself to every cough, germ, or bleeding AIDS victim? Who counsels the mother when she fears her son is on drugs or offers comfort to victim or relative when a fatal illness threatens? Who operates or renders medical care first, regardless of pay from the prepaid plan or HMO because it is necessary now? Who gets stuck in the same old way when the HMO decides (for dollar reasons) that it wasn't 'medically necessary.' Or gets stuck again if the HMO goes broke leaving millions of dollars unpaid and thousands of patients looking about for medical care? Of course the answer to all these questions is the hands-on doctor. He knows that benevolence is not really dead. It goes by another name, dedication to principle."

Medical Musings

By Dr. Leo Tannenbaum

could be treated without billing; the near-indigent could be charged less. Now, a computer-check may show the lesser fee and the government may decide that this is your fee and you are overcharging your other patients and may reduce its payment of their charges. Of course we didn't have high insurance premiums and suing the doctor was rare."

Dr. Synik said, "Some things that were good will never come back. Doctor, you hit upon what I call the benevolence factor. There was an obligation to care for the unfortunate. I served with you on a county hospital staff without pay. We taught the students and interns. We learned from each other. This is no longer allowed; 'politics' has ordained a paid staff. They have regular hours, benefits and vacations. Costs go up. Where and why has benevolence gone?"

I commented, "That very subject has been addressed by some prominent writers, George F. Will, a nationally syndicated columnist, and two gifted physicians, Leon Kass and Robert B. Howard. They point out that benevolence has given way to demand for rights."

Bopal added, "Once I tried to initiate a system in my office not to charge for Medicaid patients. I was visited by a lady from Medicaid who indicated I had to fill out the forms and designate a charge. I pointed out that was useless because there was no charge."

She smiled in triumph, "You have to, or the patient won't get his or her prescriptions. After all, it's the patient's right to be cared for properly."

"Suddenly I wasn't giving proper care unless I filled forms and billed the state. George F. Will has defined rights consumer telemarketing to generate subscriptions had anything to do with your viewpoint.

A 1978 FCC inquiry (In the matter of "Junk Phone Calls") was held to determine if regulation was warranted. As a result, 4,300 citizens wrote the FCC asking that regulation be enacted. On the other side, 45 organizations including the American Newspaper Publisher Assn. urged that little to no regulation be enacted. The result of the inquiry (with the odds about 100 to 1 in favor of regulation) was that the citizens lost. Today, the number of firms using business to consumer telemarketing is growing at about 20 percent per year, with some of these firms making over 35 million junk calls a year.

Supreme Court Justice Louis Brandies once said that "The right to be let alone is the comprehensive of rights and the one most valued by civilized man." For that right to exist, it must at least exist in our homes. It is unfortunate that any firm using telemarketing would react to our right of privacy by terming efforts to protect it as silly.

Bob Bulmash
Warrenville

Editors note: The growth of telemarketing speaks for itself. Mr. Bulmash needs to be reminded that along with the right of privacy goes the right to make a phone call and the right to hang up if you choose.

Bank remains locally owned for 71 years

by KAREN WILTBERGER

On Saturday mornings the State Bank of Lake Zurich is more like a gathering place for old friends than a banking institution for busy customers. Donuts, coffee and weekly chit chat among the locals is just the first indication that this bank has found a niche of its own.

As you enter the bank a country decor with soft rose wallpaper and beige trim triggers memories of grandma's apple pie instead of loans, deposits or investments. Generations keep coming back to the same friendly faces that welcome them year after year.

Often on the floor are bank chairman Mark Beaubien Sr. and vice chairman Mark Beaubien Jr. They have controlling interest of one of the last privately owned financial institutions in Lake County. Most of the remaining 48 percent in interest belongs to community members.

"The point is it's not a family-owned bank. It's a locally owned bank," said Beaubien Jr.

But with three generations of Beaubien attorneys-turned-bankers, it's difficult to separate the name and the bank. That holds true with other stockholders, many of whom are second and third generations of the original board of directors.

The bank at 35 W. Main caters to individuals rather than to big business. With $115 million in assets, the State Bank of Lake Zurich is considered small. Nowadays, most banks are owned as a group or by large corporations.

"It's important to understand what we can do and what we can't do," said Beaubien Jr.

For instance, what the bank can do is bend strict guidelines for customers who need that first loan or provide savings passport books which have been eliminated as "inefficient" by larger institutions. What it can not do, however, is compete for large business loans.

"Our feeling is there's a niche for the old banking concept. There's people out there who like that," said Beaubien Jr. "They know that the money that comes in here stays within the community."

That concept began in 1916 when Armon J. Crawford "did it all" in the small brick bank with a pair of customer service windows. He and local merchants and residents organized the bank. Among the original directors were Carl Ernst, J.D. Fink, Emil Frank, Fred Hoeft, Walter Plagge, Victor Sauer, Herman Schwerman and Henry Steihl.

Market coming to aid the land-rich

by GARY S. MEYERS

If the risks of investing in the volatile stock market give you the jitters, it may be time to go back to the land. After a six-year price drought, the value of farmland appears to have bottomed out in most areas of the nation.

This cyclical low may present a good opportunity for investors and farmers to buy land offering significant appreciation potential.

"Investors and farmers can buy farm land for themselves or to lease, or they can participate in master limited partnerships or other group investments," said Tom Hertz, a principal in Hertz Farm Management of Nevada, Iowa, one of the largest farmland real estate firms in the country.

Individual investors would probably need $80,000 to $100,000. However, buying into a limited partnership can cost as little as $5,000, according to Hertz.

Investment values can be found in much of the midwest. In some states, such as Illinois, the recent revival of farmland values is relatively strong, while in Iowa and Indiana, the downward trend has slowed, land brokers say.

Between 1973 and 1981, farmland prices nationwide rose at a nine percent annual clip, reports the Realtors Land Institute. In many states, the price of farmland increased more than the inflation rate.

Farmland values peaked in most parts of the nation in 1981—especially in the Corn Belt, Great Lakes and Southeast regions. The following year marked the high for farmland prices in the Northern Plains and mountain states.

However, during the mid-1980s, the price of farmland collapsed.

"Price declines of 50 percent or more were not uncommon in some areas of the nation," said J. Gregory Wiezorek, director of marketing services for the Land Institute, a subsidiary of the National Assn. of Realtors, based in Chicago.

In late 1981, investment fever had boosted the average price of Iowa farmland to $2,147 an acre, but by 1986 the pre-acre average fell to $787, said William G. Murray, professor emeritus of economics at Iowa State University.

What caused the value of prime Midwest farmland to decrease so drastically? The Land Institute cites

Search continues for SBA honorees

The U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) continues its search for outstanding small businesses and small business advocates, who will be honored during National Small Business Week next May.

The deadline for nomination submission is Monday, Nov. 16.

Trade Associations, Chambers of Commerce and other business organizations throughout Illinois today were urged to submit nominations and sponsor candidates.

Members of SBA's Advisory Council will help select the "Outstanding Small Business Person" in each state. The District of Columbia and Puerto Rico. SBA's Office of Advocacy, which coordinates Small Business Week Activities, will select outstanding small business advocates.

The winners will be invited to Washington, D.C. for Small Business Week activities scheduled for May 8 to 14.

An "Outstanding small Business Person of the Year" will be chosen from among the 52 state winners.

"Each year, the President designates a week in May as National Small Business Week, to note the contributions of the nation's 14 million small businesses and to especially honor small business persons who have been outstanding in their enterprises and who have made significant contributions to their communities," John L. Smith, Director of the SBA Office in Chicago said today.

John L. Smith said nomination for Illinois small business entrants should be submitted to 219 S. Dearborn. Deadline for nominations is Nov. 16.

Outstanding advocates will be chosen in the categories of accountant, financial services, media, minorities, veterans and women in business. Special advocacy awards will be presented to a small business exporter, a large business that has supported small business, a successful young entrepreneur and a small business owner who has promoted innovative technology. Nominations for these awards also should be submitted to: Ms. Cheryl

L. Allen, Small Business Week 88, U.S. Small Business Administration, 219 S. Dearborn-Room 437, Chicago, Ill. 60604.

Business Roundtables to move to CLC Nov. 12

Local business leaders and state economic development officials will meet Nov. 12 at the College of Lake County in Grayslake to discuss the problems and priorities of small business owners.

The meeting will begin at 1:30 p.m. in the Auditorium on the College of Lake County's Grayslake campus, 19351 Washington, Grayslake.

This is the second in a series of regional one-day Small Business Roundtables, chaired by Lt. Governor George H. Ryan. The Roundtable concept evolved from the Governor's Small Business Advisory Council, which has been chaired by Ryan since February 1983. The first was held at Millikin University in Decatur on Oct. 2.

All business owners in Lake and McHenry counties have been invited to participate in the Roundtable program. Assistance booths will be available during the program to help small business owners with their specific business needs.

"The Governor's Small Business Roundtable provides an effective avenue for members of the small business community to make sure that their voices are heard when legislation and governmental actions affecting the small business climate are being considered," Ryan said.

"We have been conducting Roundtable discussions every month in Springfield," Ryan continued. "By holding regional meetings, we now hope to reach a broader cross-section of Illinois' small business owners so that all concerns and ideas can be expressed in a workable forum."

Among the subjects typically discussed have been workers compensation, unemployment insurance, employee "right to know," government procedure, tax refunds, sales tax, EPA, service tax, liability insurance reform and plant closings.

Special guests at the meeting will be: Michael A. Donahue, Deputy Director of the Illinois Dept. of Commerce and Community Affairs' (DCCA) Small Business Assistance Bureau; James Fields, Lake County Board Chairman; Edward J. Buss, McHenry County Board Chairman; Robert J. Byrne, president of Bryne Business Consulting.

Byrne, who is a member of the Small Business Advisory Council, will host the Roundtable and will moderate a discussion regarding the laws and functions of government concerning small business with two other Advisory Council members, Mel Boldt of Mel Boldt & Associates in Mt. Prospect and Robert Doench of Asset Funding Corp. in Chicago.

"At the top of our list of priorities for the series of Statewide regional Roundtables," DCCA's Donahue said, "is the formulation of what we're calling the 'ultimate small business delivery system.' Such a system would link up and coordinate all small business systems available in Illinois--Federal, state and local-- and make assistance efforts more complete."

Both Ryan and Donahue emphasize that they "want to hear directly from those individuals who own and operate small businesses. Assistance efforts must be tailored to the needs of small business owners."

DCCA's Small Business Assistance Bureau administers a wide range of programs geared specifically to meet the needs of Illinois small businesses. These programs, which include both technical and financial assistance, have earned national recognition for their aggressive, innovative approach to helping this vitally important segment of the Illinois economy.

Beaubien

Gordon E. Beaubien became bank president after Crawford retired in 1964. Four years later, his brother Beaubien Sr. became president and has since been the chairman of the board. Beaubien Jr., a lawyer for 20 years, joined the bank almost a year ago.

Both Beaubiens have established themselves first as lawyers, second as bankers. They each have their own place within the bank and they say it became time to work together. "It makes me happy. I enjoy it," said Beaubien Sr. "He has a good background in banking and he's a good lawyer."

With many local banks being devoured by large banking groups, the state bank is definitely going against the trend. Though Beaubien Jr. sees advantages of bank groups, he prefers the warmth and familiarity of a locally run bank.

"Nothing will ever convince me that it's in the public's interest what eventually is a handful of banks controlling the public interest," said Beaubien Jr.

Beaubien is also not interested in what appears to be another trend of banks: offering outside services, such as travel, insurance and real estate. "We're not interested in expanding our services to compete with our own customers," he said.

Will it be necessary for this bank to change? "Never say 'never,'" said Beaubien Jr. But for now he thinks not. The bank offers the same services as other banks. It compensates not having larger accounts by having less overhead—the building is paid for and no percentages are paid to a larger corporation.

As the Lake Zurich area continues to become a getaway community for overcrowded suburbs, the bank continues to grow and thrive. It is one of a few local banks to survive the Great Depression and may very well stand alone as the last locally owned bank in Lake County.

"There is a place for us to exist in the banking world," said Beaubien Jr.

Market

the following events:

—After the 1980 grain embargo against the Soviet Union was lifted, the United States failed to regain export markets.

—The soaring federal budget deficit, U.S. anti-inflation policy and high interest rates in the early 1980s made it harder for farmers to borrow.

—A strong U.S. dollar, especially in the early to mid-1980s, made it difficult to export American commodities at a competitive price.

U.S. agriculture exports may be down by $10 billion from 1981, but many land brokers believe farmland is now on the verge of becoming one of the nation's safest investments.

"Although farmland is not a luxury cruise, it may resemble a lifeboat in today's fragile economy," said land broker Jerry G. Brewer of Brewer Realty in Senatobia, Mass.

Here are examples of rebounding Midwest farmland values:

Illinois: Values rose 14.7 percent to $1,690 an acre from $1,474 per acre between August 1986 and March, 1987, reports the Illinois Land Sales Bulletin. Preliminary figures indicate an additional four percent increase to $1,759 an acre occurred in April and May.

"During the last-minute flurry of land auctions before the 1987 planting season, buyers paid $200 to $300 more per acre than the auctioneers were expecting," said Jane T. Arthur, publisher of the bulletin.

Iowa: A survey conducted last spring by the Land Institute shows that prime acreage in northwestern Iowa is selling for $1,286 an acre, up 7.6 percent in the past six months.

Statewide, the average sale price for top cropland declined one percent to $1,009 per acre during the past year. However, the Iowa Farm Multiple reports 20 farmland sales per week last spring, a 500 percent gain in transaction volume over a year ago.

Indiana: While top-quality land in the state declined in value 4.1 percent to $1,259 per acre during the second half of 1986, prices for timberland increased by 5.9 percent last year.

"It now appears that farmland values and buyer interest in the Corn Belt are on a gradual increase," said Brewer.

For the trend toward higher farmland values to continue, land brokers say investors must see evidence of the following:

—Competitive return on investment—to attract investment dollars, the cash return must be competitive with alternative investments, like money market funds and savings bonds.

"At today's prices, land investments can show a cash flow that compares favorably with alternative investments," said Brewer. "Investors have recognized this, and they are beginning to move into the ag sector, especially in the Midwest."

—Market stability—A market glut in farmland inventory must be avoided. Many foreclosed farms owned by banks, other lending institutions and insurance companies are still on the market. Land brokers say such properties must be sold gradually.

—Stable farm prices—Farm land prices won't appreciate significantly if there is a surplus in agricultural commodities. Land brokers also worry about the uncertainty of government price supports.

North Shore Gas starts work on Mundelein site

Moving to beat cold weather and the end of the construction season, North Shore Gas Co. began work this month on its new multi-million-dollar regional operations center on a six-acre industrial site in Mundelein.

The new three-building complex, scheduled for completion in mid-1989, will house a variety of gas company functions, including distribution and service operations now being conducted from facilities at 649

Lake-Cook Rd. in Deerfield.

About 80 gas company employees will work out of the new complex, including gas distribution, service, transportation and warehouse personnel.

The general contractor for the project is Jenkins & Boller of Waukegan, which was awarded the $4.4 million contract on a competitive-bid basis. Under terms of the contract, the utility requires that work representing at least 10 percent of the total contract amount be performed by minority-owned firms.

Several other local firms will serve as subcontractors, including Ald-Cass Electric, Inc. of Rondout; Theodore Brickman Co. of Long Grove; Burger Excavating Co. of Wauconda; Circle Concrete Construction Co. of Zion; McDonough Plumbing & Heating of Waukegan; and William Zeigler & Sons Construction of Round Lake.

GM Sign expands its facility

A 15,000 square foot addition is underway at G.M. Sign, Inc. in the Round Lake Industrial Park. The size of the facility will be doubled upon completion of the work, and co-owners Beverly Kelly and George Matiassek, Jr. expect to add another 25 positions within the next two years as the business grows.

Kelly and Matiassek also own Ekonomy Sign, Inc. and employ a total of 48 people at both firms.

The new addition was financed through the First National Bank of Antioch, the Lake County Economic Development Corporation and the Small Business Administration (SBA) 504 Loan Program.

Ma Bell expands local call areas

The Illinois Commerce Commission Wednesday approved a proposal that will result in the expansion of untimed local calling for Illinois Bell Telephone customers in and around Chicago for communities with common exchange boundaries or service districts.

The adjustment in the untimed calling areas will allow customers who now have to pay by the minute for a call to a contiguous exchange to make the same call for about five cents with no time limit.

The change will apply to 94 of Illinois Bell Telephone's 159 exchanges or servicing districts in MSA I, affecting approximately 1.1 million customers.

The proposal also solves a similar problem for 12 service districts in the city of Chicago where customers have been unable to call governmental offices in the 744 prefix without paying per minute.

All residential customers in MSA I also will be able to call their municipal governments for a single untimed message unit or about five cents.

The restructuring is scheduled to take effect Nov. 1.

The problems for some communities in MSA I surfaced shortly after the calling areas were restructured in March. At that time local calls were designated as those served by the caller's switching center and any other switching center within eight miles.

With this new proposal Illinois Bell is enlarging the local untimed message unit from eight miles to include any of its exchanges or service districts that are contiguous to the home exchange or home service district.

The Commission's decision follows several months of negotiations between Illinois Bell and consumer groups.

Illinois Bell Telephone Company expects a $6.6 million reduction in revenues as a result of the expansions.

Working out the details

Judy Fried, center, executive director of the Northern Illinois Council on Alcoholism and Substance Abuse (NICASA), reviews final details of agreement between NICASA and Abbott Laboratories with Joyce Millman of NICASA and Abbott executive William Krueger. NICASA will work with parents of children under six who are employed at Abbott to teach innovative prevention techniques.

Obituaries

age 67, of Antioch, Illinois passed away Monday, November 2, 1987 at Victory Memorial Hospital in Waukegan.

He was born November 14, 1919 in Evanston, Illinois, and had lived in Mundelein before moving to Antioch in 1943. He was a member of the Lake County Democratic Club, a senior citizen's club in Libertyville, and the Lakes Region Historical Society. He was a retired truck driver for Pedersen Bros. Implement Company in Antioch, where he had worked for over 30 years. On January 7, 1941, he married Virginia Grovenor in Chicago, Illinois.

Survivors include his wife Virginia; one son, John W. Doyle III of Antioch; three daughters, Nancy (Frank) Petzelt of Algonquin, Illinois, Irene (Michael Gross of Lake Villa and Virginia (James) Tolonen, also of Lake Villa; seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on November 4, 1987 at the STRANG FUNERAL HOME, 1055 Main St., Antioch, Illinois, with the Reverend Paul Meltzer of the Millburn Congregational Church officiating. Interment was in Millburn Cemetery.

William J. Dunworth

age 83 of Antioch, Illinois passed away Thursday, October 29, 1987 at Northern Illinois Medical Center, McHenry, Illinois. He was born June 30, 1904 in East St. Louis, Illinois, moving to Antioch in 1932.

He was a member and usher of St. Peter Church in Antioch for many years. Member of the AARP and senior citizens of Antioch. He owned and operated the Chain O'Lakes Laundry and Dry Cleaning business for many years, and later worked part-time for Joe & Helen's Little Acres Resort on Loon Lake, near Antioch.

On September 26, 1932 he married Esther Smith in Evanston, Illinois.

Survivors include his wife, Esther; one daughter, Nancy (James) Chernak of McHenry, Illinois; and one son, William E. (Laurel) Dunworth, Chesterfield, Missouri; and nine grandchildren. He was preceded in death by five brothers and one sister.

Funeral services with Mass of Christian Burial were held Monday, November 2, 1987 at St. Peter's Church of Antioch. Interment was in Mt. Carmel, Antioch. Arrangements were made at STRANG FUNERAL HOME, Antioch, Illinois. Friends desiring may make contributions to the Antioch Rescue Squad, the American Cancer Society, or for masses in his memory.

Katie Mae Cordeiro Jennings age 64, of Round Lake, Illinois, formerly of Libertyville, died October 28, 1987 in Sycamore Hospital, Sycamore, Illinois.

She was born September 8, 1923 in Jacksonville, Florida and was a long-time Lake County resident.

She is survived by one daughter, Juliette (Dean) Johnson of Georgia; two sons, Joseph (Joanne) Cordeiro of Georgia and Clarence "Chuck" (Darlene) Cordeiro of Florida; one sister, Lillian Lee of Round Lake; seven grandchildren; and her many friends at Beach Haven Towers, Round Lake.

Time and date of a future Memorial Mass will be announced from McMURROUGH CHAPEL, 101 Park Place, Libertyville. Interment was in Mandarin Cemetery, Mandarin, Florida. If desired, memorials are requested to the Senior Center in Round Lake, Illinois, 60073, or to the American Heart Fund.

Check It Out!Musical notes

Carol Honigberg, pianist, with "astonishing brilliance, virtuosity and conquering strength," will be appearing at the College of Lake County auditorium at 4 p.m., on Sunday, Nov. 15.

On stage

The Pullman Players will be presenting the popular musical "Grease" on Nov. 6, 7, 8, 13, and 14, at the Island Lake Complex.

Marriott Lincolnshire Theater's red-hot agenda for 1988 includes performances of "Evita," "Peter Pan," "Do Black Patent Leather Shoes Really Reflect Up?," "Cabaret" and "West Side Story."

The Forum Theater's production of "Nunsense" paid back its original investment of $100,000, six months after the show opened, faster than any of the 13 productions of that show currently playing in U.S. cities and London.

For yuks galore, head towards Roars West, Frigates in Ingleside, at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, Nov. 12, when comedians Steve Olson, Bill Left and Michael Casper will be keeping them rolling in the aisles with Roars' famous comedy routines. That funny trio will head straight for Roars North at the Grand Slam in Waukegan where they will do repeat at a 9 p.m. show the same night.

The next performance of "Kidstuff," the Saturday afternoon performing arts series for kids, will take place on Nov. 14, at 2 p.m., at Lake Forest's Gorton Community Center. The Puppet Place will bring the magical world of "Aladdin's Magic Lamp" to life with music, special effects and both rod and life-size puppets, all geared to children of sixth grade level.

Be there!

On Friday, Nov. 6, from 7 to 11 p.m., the Lake County Homemakers will hold a barn dance at the Lake County Fairgrounds in Grayslake and on Sunday, Nov. 8, there will be an antique show and flea market at the fairgrounds from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

For lovers of the mystical and the occult, J and M Enterprises will present a Psychic Encounter Fair on Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 14 and 15, from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., at Howard Johnson's on Hwy. 50 and I-94, in Kenosha. Featured will be psychic Irene Hughes, Marlena The Rock Lady with her beautiful display of gemstones and psychic medium Eleanor Royce.

For nature lovers, the Volo Bog State Natural Area in Ingleside will hold a program called "Stars of November Skies," at 7 p.m., on Friday, Nov. 13. (Learn about the constellations and other wonders of astronomy under the skies of the Volo Bog.)

Atlantic Bridge set to perform

Jane Rothfield and Alan Carr, known as Atlantic Bridge, will debut at shows at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m., on Saturday, Nov. 6, at David Adler Cultural Center in Libertyville. Award winning fiddle and banjo player and traditional singer will be playing and singing Scottish and American music.

Trip to world of jet set offered at Expo

by GLORIA DAVIS

It's a rainy fall weekend afternoon. Nothing much is on tv unless one is a dyed in the wool Bear or Packer fan. (These games can always be taped.)

The family is "out shopping mall-ed," it's too cold to go to the zoo and no one is in the mood for a trip to a museum, so everyone's at loose ends.

Here's a tip for a way to spend a different, interesting and sometimes exciting afternoon, just an hour's drive away. The Rosemont O'Hare Expo Center has a constant agenda of "shows" going on all year 'round, admission price, just a few dollars apiece. Just call (312) 692-2220 and find out what's on the current program.

From Nov. 6 through 8, the Expo Center will host the Chicago Model and Hobby Show and on Nov. 14-15, the Chicago Gun Show, a mecca for gun collectors, is set to go.

Last weekend this reporter's family took in the "Adult Toy Show." No, this was not an exhibit monitored by the vice squad. Displayed were hundreds of "adult toys," many priced outlandishly, luxuries everyone dreams of having, from a $200,000 black Rolls Royce convertible to a $5,000 stereo '50s jukebox.

This reporter offered to let her entire family go in together on the Rolls for her Christmas gift, especially when she found out that a $50,000 full-length lynx fur coat came along with it FOR FREE, but she got no takers.

There were loads of "toys" for men, (the only difference between men and boys —) from a $300,000 van to cellular car phones at an unbelievably low $700 (installed).

The musically inclined member of the family flipped over a computerized grand piano that played "Rhapsody In Blue" exactly as played by George Gershwin for a mere $10,000.

There was a booth displaying those dimensional holograph portraits that really gave this reporter the "wills." It's the old wax museum syndrome wherein one could get the feeling that they cut off the person's head and put it in a glass cube, they looked so real.

For those who desire a holograph portrait of a famous person that is in stock, ones of people like Chicago Bear Coach Mike Ditka sell for $8,000. Custom holographs run approximately $19,000.

Toys for adult females included fur coats modeled by luscious ladies that look much better in them than most. Those were most tempting and so was some of the lovely jewelry, not to mention the hand-tooled reptile purses and hand-loomed clothing.

There were computerized games galore, the kind that moms and dads buy for the kids for Christmas because they can't wait to "get down and show them how to play it." Did you know that one's own personal "Game show host" is available to, with the aid of a micro chip or two, lead the family in playing 10 game shows of their own at home? The cost of this winner is $150. P.S. Toys Are Us has it for $90.

There was a gold motorcycle that had to be the "Cadillac" of the cycle set and water and snow ski fashions that would even have Gucci drooling.

All in all as soon as the 'have not pains' subsided, the afternoon proved to be a fun one.

Rothfield, Carr will debut at Adler Center

Jane Rothfield and Alan Carr, a duo known as Atlantic Bridge, will debut at the David Adler Cultural Center in two shows, at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m., on Saturday, Nov. 6.

Rothfield, who hails from New York, plays fiddle and banjo. Carr, from Aberdeen, Scotland, has won awards for his traditional singing. They perform original songs and traditional Scottish and American music, and have played festivals and concerts on both sides of the ocean.

Bonnie Biehl and Judy Morkrid, two Adler favorites, will open both shows. Their songs, accompanied on autoharp and guitar, carry on the Adler tradition of homemade music.

Admission is $5 for adults, $4.50 for members, $3 for senior citizens, anyone with a valid student i.d., and children six to 12, and free for children under six.

The David Adler Cultural Center, 1700 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville, is a non-profit organization. For more information, call (312) 367-0707.

Wilson to appear at Bazaar

The NISRA Holiday Bazaar, with guest visitor Otis Wilson, will be held from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 13, at the Landings of Libertyville, 1290 S. Milwaukee Ave.

Over 45 exhibitors will feature crafts, folk art, country crafts, jewelry, and toys. There will be baked goods for sale, door prizes, and besides a visit from Santa Claus, Otis Wilson of the Chicago Bears will be there from 6:30 to 9 p.m. There is no admission fee.

In 'Grease'

Frenchy, Cindi Daniels of Round Lake, is shocked as Doody, Rick Wodek, Grayslake, finally asks her to big hop in Pullman Players' production of 'Grease' to be presented at Island Lake Complex on ov. 6, 7, 8, 13 and 14.

Eye female search for identity

The search for female identity will be explored through four films in "Images of Women in International Film" offered by the College of Lake County Southlake Educational Center beginning Nov. 17.

One film will be shown and discussed at each class session from 7 to 10 p.m. The four featured films will be the Australian film "My Brilliant Career," the German film "Maylon," the original version of "Pygmalion" starring Wendy Hiller and Leslie Howard and "Moscow Does Not Believe in Tears" from the Soviet Union.

The course fee is $37. The class will be held at the Southlake Educational Center, 1860 First St., in Highland Park. For more information and registration, call (312) 433-7884.

Lambs offers catalog

The new Lambs' Country Gift Catalog is now available just in time for holiday shopping! Choose from a unique variety of gift packages comprised of Lambs' homemade tempting chocolates, baked goods, special jams and jellies.

Or select from a collection of beautifully designed greeting cards, t-shirts and sweat shirts, all hand-screened by Lambs' men and women. All of The Lambs' products are also available in The Lambs' Country Shops open daily 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Lambs is located at the junction of Rtes. I-94 and Rte. 176 in Libertyville.

Lambs is a private non-profit residential and vocational facility for mentally retarded adults.

Watercolor guild plans to expand interests

At the regular meeting of the Lakes Region Watercolor Guild, held Oct. 19 at the Community Room in Grayslake, extensive plans for future exhibits, both group and individual, highlighted the business of the day.

Patty Hale, program chairman, presented Sharon Asquith, director of the arts programs at the David Adler Cultural Center, who gave an informative presentation on "Marketing Your Art."

A Group Guild show at Freemont Library in Mundelein will be succeeded with an exhibit of watercolors by Ginny Woltzen of Lindenhurst, during November and December.

The next Guild show will be hung at Wauconda Library, beginning Jan. 6, followed by an all-member exhibit at the Lake County courthouse in March.

Phyllis Bolger of Lake Forest presents her watercolors at the First National Bank of Antioch during November. She, Carol Sackschewsky and Jinny Woltzen are exhibiting in the "Recent Works" juried show at the College of Lake County.

Jean Korell of Grayslake will be showing watercolors and handmade paper collages, also in November, at the Libertyville National Bank in Libertyville.

Sandra Brown of Grayslake is currently participating in a multimedia show entitled "Textures" at the Willowbrook Gallery in Millburn, which will be changing its name to Millburn Gallery next month.

Janice Metzger of Lake Villa, winner of the Lakes Region Watercolor Guild Scholarship, recently returned from Dillman's Sand Lake Lodge at Lac Du Flambeau, where she studied with watercolorist Don Andrews for a week.

Mary Mooney is enjoying lessons with Richard Nichols of Glen Ellyn, and several of the guild continue a pleasant on-going participation in the classes of watercolorist, Edmund Kanwischer at the College of Lake County.

Bernard Wanagas, of Twin Lakes, Wis., presented his seminar on "The Camera and the Artist" at the Adler Cultural Center. "Barney" is also instructing a beginners watercolor class at Twin Lakes.

Margaret Salem of Lake Zurich has won acclaim with her painting "Jewel Box" in the Town and Country Amateur Show, sponsored by the University of Illinois at Champaign. She progressed from her first show in Grayslake to the regional at St. Charles, diverting to a Senior Citizen's Championship at the Kenosha County Fair, then on to a Blue Ribbon at state in Illinois.

Bradley Sauder of North Barrington is the recipient of a reproduction of an Andrew Wyeth "Helga" painting, in a drawing held by the Great Frameup at Crystal Lake, which ultimately awards a trip to Washington, D.C. to see the original.

The November 19 meeting of the Lakes Region Watercolor Guild will be held at the home of Jean Korell at 531 N. Lake St., Grayslake, with a particularly interesting demonstration of Sumi-e painting, presented by Pat Wylie of Lake Forest.

The public is invited to share and enjoy the exhibits at each of the various locations mentioned above.

Mall urges groups to perform

Lakehurst Mall invites area church, social, and school musical groups to celebrate the season with their family and friends by performing holiday music at the shopping center during December.

Video sports bar will be featured at Footlights

Time is drawing near for the Antioch, St. Peter Church's sixth annual fundraiser "Footlights '87". Performance dates are Nov. 6 to 7 and 13 to 14. Doors open promptly at 6 p.m. There will be 10 rooms of entertainment.

Appearing in the "Video Sports Bar" on Friday, Nov. 6 will be a special sports figure guest. Join us for the fun and autographs. There will be sports highlights on video as well as a full ration of the famous "Chicago Style" hot dogs.

"Juke Box Saturday Night" will give patrons the opportunity to show their real talent in the lip sync contests. A few of Antioch's own celebrities will be there trying their hand in the lip sync contests. The music, which is being supplied by the "Dancin' Machine", will be favorites from the 60's and 70's.

The night will not be complete without a stop at "Tricks". Paul Lee will astound everyone with his amazing feats of magic.

A shuttle service will be available. For everyone's convenience, shuttle stops will be marked at various local parking lots. The shuttle will run every 15 minutes from the lots right to the "Footlights" front door.

Advance tickets are available for $5 on Friday nights and $7 on Saturday nights. Tickets can be purchased at all local financial institutions, Realty World - Tiffany and the St. Peter's Rectory.

Those purchasing an admission ticket, will be eligible for door prizes. The total prize value is $1,000. Ticket stubs will be collected as people enter "Footlights".

The drawing will be held the Sunday after "Footlights". Prize winners will be notified by mail. Tickets will be sold at the door on show nights for $7 on Friday night and $9 on Saturday night. Consider attending on Friday nights when it is less crowded.

Critic's Choice In... Lakeland

Warsaw Ballet memorable

by TOM WITTOM

The ride to Chicago's Auditorium Theatre from most Lakeland communities is probably an hour or so.

For those making the trip on Oct. 18, it was like crossing a time warp.

The Warsaw Ballet was in town for its midwestern debut. This classy troupe, which traces its heritage to the late 1700s, performed a romantic ballet, "Giselle," two hours of memorable dance.

Guest artist Olga Likhovskaya, a Kirov Ballet star, turned in a dazzling performance in the title role as the peasant girl who falls in love with Albrecht (Arkadiusz Stepień), a count who is already betrothed. Another admirer, Hilarion (Lukasz Gruzien), tries to warn the young woman of the pitfalls of her involvement—to no avail.

The production allows for the talented principals to showcase their agility. In the second act, with 27 ballerinas on stage (a vision in white) and gliding in perfect synchronicity, the troupe's strong discipline is clearly in evidence.

"Giselle" is classic ballet at its finest, and the Warsaw company's rendition made it a special treat.

Upcoming at the Auditorium: Twyla Tharp Dance Troupe, Nov. 11 through 14; and Moscow Ballet, Nov. 16 through 19.

Cancer benefit set for Nov. 15

Tickets are still available for "Predictions in Fashion-87," a luncheon and fashion show sponsored by the 10th Dist. Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, GFWC, to benefit the American Cancer Society, Lake County Unit.

The event will be held Sunday, Nov. 15 at Marriott's Lincolnshire Resort with cocktails at 11:30 a.m., luncheon at 12:30 p.m. and fashions at 1:30 p.m.

Celebrity models, including Debra Mc-

Michaels, Mrs. Illinopis, will wear couture designs by Mira of Glenview. Gallaghers of Chicago and Bill Talidis' Mink Barn of Union, Ill.

Two grand prizes are offered—a mink jacket donated by the Mink Barn and a trip for two to Reno, Nev., donated by Best Travel at Hawthorn Center, plus many other prizes.

Reservations should be made by Nov. 7—tickets at $25 each are limited to 750 guests. For ticket information, call (312) 566-8831.

ROCK TRACKS

By Rob Ferrus

Atco Records has recently released Big Generator, the first Yes studio album in nearly four years. Produced by the band — Trevor Rabin, Paul DeVilliers, and Trevor Horn — Big Generator was recorded at studios in Italy, London and Los Angeles. The LP included the hit single "Love Will Find A Way."

The second studio album by the revitalized Yes, this LP is their eagerly awaited follow-up to their multi-platinum international smash 90125. Released in November of 1983, the album yielded the band's first U.S. number one single, "Owner of a Lonely Heart." Yes includes founders Jon Anderson, Chris Squire, and Tony Kaye; long-standing member Alan White and newest recruit Trevor Rabin.

The album's track listing is as follows:
Side One: "Rhythm Of Love," "Big Generator," "Shoot High Aim Low," "Almost Like Love."
Side Two: "Love Will Find A Way," "Final Eyes," "I'm Running," "Holy Lamb (Song for Harmonic Convergence)."

Following the album will be an extensive 1987-1988 world tour.

For admirers of Latin music, Jose Luis Rodriguez, the man the world affectionately hails as "El Puma," makes his debut with Senor Corazon. The Venezuelan singing star's latest album, sung entirely in Spanish, is produced by Albert Hammond, who, by the way, co-wrote all ten songs. "El Puma" has recorded Italian and Portuguese language versions of the album as well. Like Julio Iglesias, he is a very versatile singer. Although Jose Luis Rodriguez isn't as well-known as his Latin counterpart, his recent concert at New York's Madison Square Garden (October 17th) was a huge success, which only shows the immense support he already has in the United States.

Arts to salute Indians

When thinking of Thanksgiving everyone remembers ancestors who could not have been so successful without the help and friendship of the original inhabitants, the American Indian.

In this spirit, the Chain O'Lakes Cultural Arts Assn. and The Fox Lake Historical Society will present an Art Show, 'Indians, Indians, Indians' (a tribute to the American Indians). The Show's opening will be on Friday, Nov. 13, from 7 to 9 p.m. in the museum of the Fox Lake Community Center.

This show will feature paintings and drawings by Kurt Anderson and H. Ray Stav. Both artists are currently residing in Milwaukee and have exhibited extensively in their local areas.

The Indian theme is particularly appropriate for Fox Lake, since the village took its name from the Fox Indian tribe, who originally inhabited the area.

The public is invited to attend the open house on Nov. 13. Any schools or other groups may make appointments for field trips to view this show by calling Sue Kozlowski at (312)587-2742 or Pat Catalano at (312)587-8148.

Goodman rehearses 'Scrooge'

The Goodman Theatre will celebrate its 10th anniversary production of Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol," with performances Nov. 21 through Dec. 30, opening Dec. 2.

Goodman resident director Michael Maggio directs this holiday classic for the first time, from an adaptation by Larry Sloan.

The Goodman's production of "A Christmas Carol" has become a holiday tradition for Chicago families, warming the hearts of over a quarter of a million patrons since its first presentation in 1978.

In keeping with the holiday spirit of giving, the Nov. 21 performance of "Carol" will launch "A Season of Concern," a year-long fundraising effort involving the Chicago theatre community in the fight against AIDS. Tickets for the performance only are $18. A limited number of $50 tickets are also available, the price of which includes an invitation to a pre-performance reception attended by the Spirits of Christmas Past, Present and Future. Tickets for "A Christmas Carol" may be purchased at the Goodman Theatre Box Office, (312)443-3800. All major credit cards are accepted.

Cross country

Kimberly Kaskin, daughter of Mrs. Phyllis Kaskin of Bassett, Wis., is a member of the Carroll College women's cross country team. Kaskin is a 1985 graduate of Wilmot Union High School. She is a junior at Carroll and a fitness management major.

Buoys and Belles square dance

The Buoys and Belles Square Dance Club will host a "Red, White & Blue Doze" dance on Friday, Nov. 6, at First United Methodist Church, 128 N. Ulico, Waukegan. A round dance workshop will begin at 8 p.m., with square dancing at 8:30 p.m. and a Plus tip at 11 p.m. All modern western square dancers are invited, and refreshments will be served.

Archivist to address genealogists

John Treanor, assistant chancellor of archives and records for the Archdiocese of Chicago, will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the Lake County Genealogical Society, at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 10. Meeting place is Room C003 (in new science wing) at the College of Lake County, Grayslake. Anyone interested in genealogy is invited to attend this free meeting. For more information, call Joan Meyer, (312)223-4037, or Joan Roden, (312)566-1789.

For mothers of twins

Double Dilemma Mothers of Twins Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 10, at the Crystal Lake Ambulatory Rte. 31. A stenciling project will be completed at this meeting. Double Dilemma is open to all mothers and expectant mothers of multiple births. For more information, call Rose Romero at (815)568-6033.

Holiday house tours

The Guild of St. Joseph's Church in Libertyville is sponsoring a "Doorways to Christmas" tour from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and again from 6 to 9 p.m., on Wednesday, Dec. 9. The tour includes five homes in Libertyville decorated for Christmas, and will conclude with light refreshments at the Adler House. Tickets are now available for $10 per person by calling Lorraine McLoughlin, (312)367-7775.

DAR events

The Ansel Brainerd Cook Chapter, National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution will hold its chapter meeting at noon on Thursday, Nov. 12, at the Lambs Farm in Libertyville. The subject of the meeting will be "National Defense/Citizens Against Crime." The Chapter also plans a genealogy workshop from 9 to 11 a.m. on Monday, Nov. 23, at Cook Memorial Library in Libertyville.

WXLC offers free lunch

WXLC, the easy winning station for the North Metro, announced that businesses can win lunch for their office for up to 12 people furnished by the Cabriolet Restaurant and Lounge in Libertyville, plus a qualifying prize of a case of Coke or Diet Coke and five instant lottery tickets furnished by Hammers Liquors, Hawthorn Hills Fashion Square, Vernon Hills.

WXLC will be mailing out preaddressed reply cards to area offices. Just fill in the blanks and return. Anyone who doesn't receive a card can mail in their name, company name, department or division, address, phone number and number of people in that department to: WXLC Lunch Party, 3250 Belvidere Rd., Waukegan, Ill. 60085.

Every weekday, after 1 p.m., Mark West will read a name and then that person has 10 minutes and 23 seconds to call (312)244-6810 to claim the qualifying prize and eligibility at the drawing on Friday of lunch for up to 12 people.

So far in 1987, $120,000 in cash and prizes given away...more still to come.

'Wedding Expo '88' seeks new exhibitors

Debbie's Floral Shoppe and the "Dancin' Machine" will present "Wedding Expo '88" on Jan. 17.

They hope everyone accepts their invitation to join them at the Holiday Inn of Mundelein.

This is the best opportunity to showcase a wedding and wedding related merchandise and services.

Think of it as a trade show for nearly 1,000 people made up of brides to be, their families, and friends. Come, meet and talk with them at that most opportune time, right when they're making the buying decisions.

In just its third year this show has grown into the largest and best publicized in the entire area. Last year over 800 people attended with 20 businesses on display.

This year they are featuring the bridal fashions of Claudine's of Libertyville, formal wear by Henry's in Waukegan, and floral designs and stage decorations by Debbie's Floral Shoppe of Mundelein.

The media anchor for the show is Lakeland Newspapers. As in years past, Lakeland will use the full power of their 13 papers county wide to promote and help advertise the show. Lakeland will provide several full page ads as well as complete editorial coverage of the show.

The big pull-out section will hit Nov. 6 to get the ball rolling. Ads, editorials, and special sections will continue through December and January right up until the show.

Lakeland will also provide local radio advertising in January to boost the attendance of "Wedding Expo '88".

Exhibitors will receive a one-fourth page ad in the Lakeland Papers, and be contacted by a Lakeland representative to work out the details.

The sponsors of this show, Debbie Mullen and Rich Roland, have a combined eight years of experience producing and displaying at wedding shows. They know what it takes to have a successful show - in attendance and in profit for the exhibitors. Space is limited. First come first served. Fill out the attached application to reserve space. Most every one of last year's exhibitors are back this year, so join to make this year's show even bigger and better.

Anyone having questions can contact Rich Roland at the "Dancing Machine", (312) "22-DANCE" (223-2623).

A shop window poster and tickets will be provided to each exhibitor. The show advertising will direct the public to their location to receive the free tickets.

Each exhibitor will receive a computer list of all of the attendees from the show for direct mail purposes. This list is to be used only by "Wedding Expo '88" exhibitors and safe guards will be built-in to assure this.

Cabaret feature

"Marry Me A Little," playing at Gaslight Cabaret Theatre, features vocal talents of Linda Baggord and Tom Ford.

Critic's Choice In... Lakeland

Gaslight hits home with 'Marry Me'

by TOM WITOM

Songs by Stephen Sondheim are an established part of the American musical theatre, featured in such classics as "West Side Story," "Gypsy," "Company" and, most recently, "Sunday in the Park with George."

Now there's another venue for some of the gifted Sondheim's lesser known works, the ones that never found a home on Broadway.

"Marry Me a Little," being presented in an open run at the Gaslight Cabaret Theatre in Chicago's Palmer House, is a lively collection of 15 tunes from the master telling the story of the rise and fall of a typical American relationship.

The cast includes a young urban couple, The Boy (Tom Ford) and The Girl (Linda Baggord). "Alone on a Saturday night, you might as well be dead," they lament in song—only to discover later that they were wrong.

Their courtship escalates with a "bang," and explosive number on the conquest of love, followed by a tender "Isn't it?" in which the pair literally waltz around the subject of romance.

In the second act the years have slipped away and the honeymoon is but a faint memory. "Happily Ever After" (in Hell), "It Wasn't Meant to Happen" and "Fox Trot" document the unraveling of marriage ("good try, goodbye," they sing).

"Marry Me a Little" concludes on an upbeat but sentimental note with "Who Could Be Blue/Little White House."

Ford, a newcomer to the Chicago stage, and Baggord, who recently appeared in a Goodman Theatre production, make a winning, wholesome team.

The revue demands a broad vocal range from each performer. And that's exactly what they deliver.

The Gaslight Cabaret Theatre, a cozy, intimate room, makes do with a simple but effective Chicago skyline and a few basic props. Offstage, pianist James Valcz and lighting designer David Johnson make major contributions to the productions success.

Teacher takes dream trip

To prepare herself for a dream trip to Japan, Diana Chaloupka taught Spanish at Carmel High School for Girls during the day and was a student of the Japanese language at night.

She headed for Japan last June with, by her own admission, "limited Japanese skills," but with an open mind and a desire to learn. Her enthusiasm was rewarded as she found strangers eager to assist her and even go out of their way "to make me feel like a welcome friend."

Seek 'Messiah' singers

Calling all singers who have always wanted to sing in the magnificent "Messiah" by Handel or who want to enjoy it again.

A chorus is again being formed to bring to glowing life this most famous and inspiring Christmas Oratorio. The group will rehearse on the Sundays in November from 2 to 4 p.m. in Wesley Hall of the United Methodist Church of Antioch, 848 Main St., Antioch. There is ample parking behind the church.

Ralph Brooke, the very popular recently retired coach director of Antioch High School will be the rehearsal director. Please bring your own music.

Performances of "The Messiah" will be at St. Peters church on Friday, Dec. 4 at 8 p.m. and at Hawthorn Center Mall on Sunday, Dec. 6 at 7 p.m.

The chorus will be accompanied by a chamber orchestra drawn from among the members of the Waukegan Symphony. The performance will be under the direction of Dr. Lynn Schornick, conductor of the symphony.

Support group

The Lake County Health Dept. Division of Mental Health offers an evening weekly support group for parents and family members of mentally ill individuals. This service is offered free of charge

Relax and avoid the season's hustle and bustle while boosting holiday spirits with a visit to The Lambs. Browse through the Country Shops surrounded by festive decorations and be entertained by Lambs' carollers.

This holiday cheer, shared by Lambs' men and women throughout the farm, makes The Lambs' shops most jovial this time of year. Whether busily screening a newly designed greeting card at the Persimmon Tree Card and Gift Shop or offering visitors sample tastes of new jams, jellies or preserves in the Country Store, Lambs' men and women spare no effort when it comes to holiday preparations.

When visiting The Lambs this holiday season, one can delight in a delicious new line of homemade chocolates, bakery goods, jams, jellies and preserves, all prepared in The Lambs' Country Kitchen.

Lambs' products are also available in The Lambs' Country Gifts Catalog which offers a variety of festive gift packages. To receive a catalog call The Lambs at (312)362-4636.

The Lambs' Persimmon Tree Card and Gift Shop employees began filling holiday orders weeks earlier this year than in past seasons. Orders ranging from corporate greeting cards to cozy sweat shirts, all hand screened by Lambs' men and women, no job is too large for The Lambs.

The Lambs' Country Inn Restaurant is a popular site for seasonal celebrations. From quaint afternoon luncheons to sizable employee Christmas parties, banquets at The Lambs are sure to please even the fussiest eaters.

Come celebrate the wonder of the holiday season at Lambs Farm and fill ones senses with the sights and sounds of Christmas. Lambs Farm is located at the junction of Rtes. I-94 and Rte. 176 in Libertyville. The Lambs is a private non-profit vocational and residential community for mentally retarded adults.

Hospital features artist

The work of Phyllis Salutsky of Highland Park will be featured during October in the lobby of Lutheran General Hospital, 1775 Dempster St., Park Ridge.

Salutsky's favorite subjects include landscapes, florals, portraits and still lifes. She primarily works in oils, and tends to use light, soft colors.

"I have participated in many art shows on Chicago's north shore, and have sold paintings all over the world," said Salutsky. "My greatest joy is to see my paintings hanging where someone can enjoy them."

Salutsky's work has appeared in one-person art shows at companies, banks and hospitals all over the country and throughout the world.

This exhibit is part of the continuing Art Originale program of Lutheran General Hospital's Service League. Artwork is for sale and may be purchased from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays through the Art Originale office, or from 4 to 8:30 p.m. weeknights and 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturdays in the hospital gift shop. For more information, call (312)696-6435.

Center to debut cookbook

The Auxiliary to Northern Illinois Medical Center announces the appetizer edition of its cookbook series.

The Auxiliary's first cookbook, printed in 1986, the "Cookie" edition, was ordered by cookiebakers from across the country. The second book in the series offers many pre-holiday ideas and hors d'oeuvre recipes from fine cooks.

The "Appetizer Cookbook" will debut from 3 to 5 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 11, in the private dining room at NIMC. Sample of the best hors d'oeuvres will be available. The price of Someone may win a the Appetizer Cookbook wonderful holiday surprise. is $3.50.

CLC schedules play exploring society shift

The College of Lake County Theatre Dept. will present "Six Characters in Search of an Author," Nov. 13, 14, 20 and 21 at 8 p.m. and Nov. 15 at 2 p.m. in the CLC Theatre, Bldg. 5 at the Grayslake campus.

Written by Italian playwright Luigi Pirandello, the play explores shifting levels of reality.

In the middle of a rehearsal, a family of characters arrive on stage and insist on telling their story, bewildering the actors and director in process. As the versions told by each family member differ, the audience is left to sort out illusion from reality.

Cast members include Rodney

Warfield of Waukegan as Father; Tonya Straughn of Great Lakes as Mother; Debi White of Grayslake as the stepdaughter; Jason Clark of Waukegan as the son; Beth Gareis of Libertyville as the director; Robin Silverman of Highland Park as the leading lady; and Heath Denikas of Lake Villa as the leading man.

Eibhlín Glennon, a CLC Theatre instructor, will direct the play.

Admission: $4 general public and $2 students, staff, alumni. Tickets may be purchased in advance through the CLC Activities Box Office or at the door. For more information, call (312) 223-6601, ext. 550.

Lambs Farm getting ready for upcoming holidays

The Lambs' Farm Holiday Art, Craft and Antique Show and Sale will be the largest event of its kind held in the Chicago area. Scheduled Dec. 3-6 at O'Hare Expo Center, this benefit for the Lambs, an internationally renowned center for mentally retarded adults, will be a shopper's paradise with over 425 fine artists, craftsmen and antique dealers from 20 states displaying and selling a wide variety of top quality art and craft work, and country folk arts in over 50 different media as well as hard to find antiques.

This gala holiday boutique will feature only especially selected, highly-skilled artists and craftsmen and fine antiques. Folks can browse and shop through a wonderful collection of original art, imaginative crafts, traditional country folks and unique antiques sold by exhibitors from areas throughout the country.

All items are handcrafted by the artisan and they will answer questions and discuss their work.

Featured in the show will be wood and antique furniture, stained glass, sculpture, functional pottery, oil paintings, soft watercolors, baker's clay, durable wood toys, colorful patchwork, porcelain dolls, photography, decorative fiber, hand tools, kitchen utensils, collectibles, folk art and more.

A glass grinder will repair chipped and broken crystal and repair fine porcelain pieces on the spot.

Special areas will be set aside for Country Folk Art including baskets, cornhusk dolls and quilts as well as unusual children's items and Christmas decorations.

Other special services include: Furniture refinishing and stripping, silver matching service, bead restringing and antique jewelry and religious article identification by an expert dealer who will identify age, style and value.

Kirk Players rehearse suspenseful mystery

Mystery, terrifying suspense, supernatural: these are some of the words New York critics use to describe "Monique," the Kirk Players second show of their 22nd season. It will be presented on Nov. 20 and 21 at 8 p.m. in the Mundelein High School auditorium.

"Monique," by Dorothy and Michael Blankfort, explores the obsessions of life leading to the deterioration of the human character.

Phyllis Carter, in the title role of Monique, is a woman of extraordinary appeal, yet with a calculating character. Bob Thomas, as Fernand Ravinel is intelligent but unhappy husband hoping to escape his failed marriage to Lucienne. Carol Marie Fischesser, who plays Lucienne Ravinel, is cast as the shrewish and overbearing wife.

Inspector Merlin (Hill Carter) is a retired policeman intent on solving mysteries that evolve. Donna Lynn as Henriette is the housekeeper constantly at odds with her employer, Lucienne.

Lisette (Alaine Lubin) a guest performer, plays a 16-year-old girl who has fallen into a one way love affair with Fernand. Floyd Baker (Andre DuBois) is the older brother of Lucienne. Andre is a nervous, apologetic man who comes to explain certain oddities about Lucienne.

Jesse Becker (Gouttez) is a drunken but good natured brick mason hired by Fernand in the hope of creating an alibi. Todd Wilson (The Messenger) makes his Kirk Player debut in this show.

The critics agreed that "Monique" was one of the most unusual plays to reach Broadway.

Carter, technical director for the players, will be assisted by Thom Koch on lights, Royden Slade on sound and Carl Johnson on props.

Ticket prices are $4 per adult; $2 per student and $1 for children under 12. Tickets are available from the sponsoring organization or any Kirk Player. For additional information, call (312)566-6594 after 6 p.m.

ASK TONI

Richard Dean Anderson hoped to play pro hockey

By Toni Reinhold

I'd like some information about Richard Dean Anderson. Is he the same actor who played Dr. Jeff Webber on "General Hospital"? - C.F., Grand Rapids, Mich.

Richard Dean Anderson

Anderson, the star of ABC's "MacGyver," was born in Minneapolis, Minn. An avid sportsman, his hopes of becoming a professional hockey player were dashed when he broke both arms while playing varsity hockey during high school. (Still, he now plays on the celebrity all-star hockey team at National Hockey League games and charity events.) He worked as a department-store salesman, with stage companies and at a theme park before he got his big break - the role of Dr. Jeff Webber on "General Hospital," which he played from 1976 to 1981. He was a regular in the CBS series "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers" (1982-83) and "Emerald Point N.A.S." (1983-84) before landing the "MacGyver" lead role in 1985.

 Did Pearl Bailey ever have her own TV show? I seem to recall that she did, but my sister says no. - T.H., Harrisburg, Pa.
 You're right, T.H. Bailey did host her own variety series, "The Pearl Bailey Show," which aired from January to May 1971. Joining Pearl Bailey were the Allan Davies Singers, the Robert Sidney Dancers and Louis Bellson and his orchestra.
 The singer in the new McDonald's "Mac Tonight" commercial reminds me of Bobby Darin. Is he Darin's son? - D.A., Mt. Vernon, Ill.
 The McDonald's Corp. won't identify its new personality, who they call simply "Mac Tonight." The singer does sound like the late, great Darin when he belts out the commercial lyrics to the tune of Darin's hit "Mack the Knife." But the company says he is not related to Darin - he is a complete unknown.
 Who supplies the voice of Garfield the cat on the CBS specials? - B.P., Pearl River, N.Y.
 The feline star of the "Garfield" TV specials is given voice by Lorenzo Music.
 (Send your letters to Ask Toni, United Feature Syndicate, 200 Park Ave., Room 602, New York, N.Y. 10166. Due to the large volume of mail, personal replies cannot be given.)

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 11th

VETERANS DAY

IN WAR OR PEACE THEY RISK THEIR LIVES FOR OUR FREEDOM

He that stands (the service of his country) now, deserves the love and thanks of man and woman.

—Thomas Paine

Technically speaking, we are at peace in the world, or at least not engaged in any officially declared war at the moment. However, conditions can change from day to day, and in any case the members of our armed services are always on duty around the globe, protecting our national interests; and they are prepared to give their lives for us if necessary. Therefore, when those who are fortunate enough to do so return home, the least we can do for them is to make their lives as easy as possible. We should also attend our House of Worship, thank the Lord for the safe return of all our veterans of whatever conflict, and pray for the continued safety of our heroic service people still stationed in foreign lands. The choice of our faith is one of the freedoms they have guarded for us and for future generations.

"I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith."

—II Timothy 4:7

Medical school receives NIH heart study grant

The National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute of the National Institutes of Health has awarded a three-year grant of approximately $400,000 to the University of Health Sciences/Chicago Medical School.

The award was made to Dr. Max Harry Weil, MD, Ph.D., professor and chairman of the Dept. of Medicine at the Medical School, and chief of the department's division of cardiology.

According to Dr. Weil, the planned studies are part of a continuing commitment by his research group to investigate the mechanisms associated with cardiac arrest and more effective methods of cardiopulmonary resuscitation.

Specifically, he said, the team will study the chemical and muscle contraction functions of the heart muscle during cardiac arrest, and how these can be tested to improve the success of CPR.

The team includes Dr. Weil as investigator; Dr. Eric C. Rackow as co-investigator; Martin Von Planta, MD, and Raul J. Gazmuri, MD, research fellows in the Dept. of Medicine; Joe Bisera, MSEE, project manager and biomedical engineer in the department; and Sally Bruno, MS, research technician.

Budget questions dominate weeks' legislative debate

The first round of the fall veto session concluded during the past week, and Republican Caucus Chair Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) said budget questions dominated the legislative debate as expected.

The State Senate approved $21 million in supplemental spending for education, while in the House, $62.5 million was added back into the education budget. But, Sen. Geo-Karis said, neither amount represents a final figure, and given the state's current financial condition, it's unlikely that either the House or Senate budget additions could be sustained without a tax increase. A final, lower dollar amount is expected to be negotiated over the next two weeks.

While the budget debate was taking place, the state's general funds balance stood at $38 million—more than $160 million below the minimum balance accounting experts say should be in the treasury. At the same time, the state had about $180 million in bills due.

In addition to the budget debate, lawmakers took action on dozens of bills vetoed by the Governor. In most cases, the legislators supported the Governor's actions, voting to override the Governor on only 21 out of 143 vetoed bills in the Senate and 35 out of 211 in the House. None of the override actions is final yet, as each bill overridden by the House or Senate must also be overridden by the other chamber.

The following bills are among those measures that were vetoed, but overridden by the House or Senate:

-Elder Abuse (SB 1226)—Creates the Elder Abuse and Neglect Act, which expands elder abuse prevention programs statewide. Four demonstration projects already in place have responded to over 500 cases of abuse in the last two years. The expanded statewide program is expected to respond to over 2,500 reports of abuse annually.

-Child Testimony (HB 510)—Allows prosecutors to use videotaped testimony of child witnesses in sexual offense cases. The measure is designed to reduce the trauma for children who would otherwise be required to testify before the full courtroom.

-Business Incentives (SB 200)—Requires the state to prepare an economic impact study before offering any incentives to encourage foreign business investment in Illinois. The study would determine the impact those incentives would have on domestic businesses.

-Prison Sentence (SB 1412)—Increases from 40 years to 60 years the maximum prison sentence for the crime of first degree murder. Also increases from 40 years to 60 years the maximum prison sentence for the crime of first degree murder.

-Toxic Waste (SB 1393)—Directs the State Police, in cooperation with the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency and the Attorney General's office, to establish a Toxic Waste Strike Force, for the purpose of investigating criminal violations involving hazardous waste.

-Computer Crime (SB 1335)—Creates the Computer Crime Prevention Law. Also creates the new offenses of computer tampering, aggravated computer tampering and computer fraud. If convicted of these offenses, a person could face up to a $10,000 fine and one to three years in prison. This bill also allows the Attorney General to confiscate any profits, proceeds or other property derived from a computer crime.

-Pertussis (SB 804)—Requires the Dept. of Public Health to prepare and make available to all health care workers and hospitals a pamphlet explaining the benefits and dangers of the pertussis vaccine for whooping cough. Also requires that a copy of the pamphlet be given to a parent or guardian before a child is to be immunized.

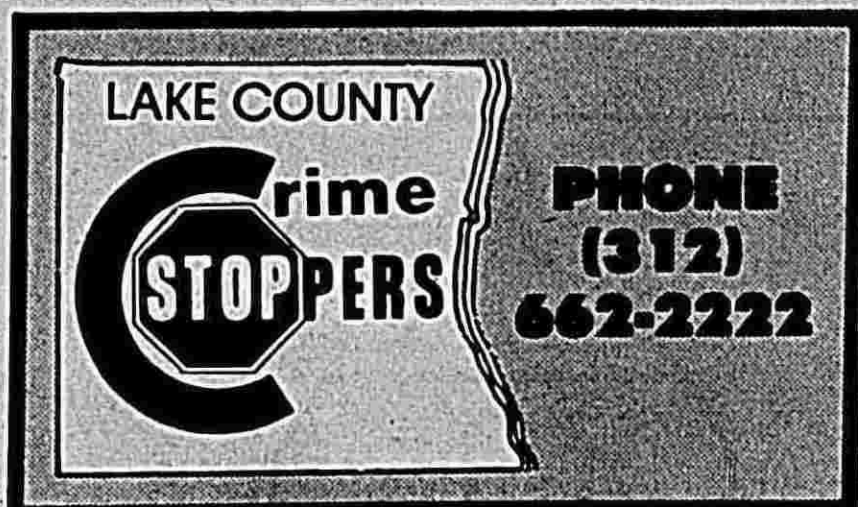

-Entrepreneur Education (SB 687)—Creates the Illinois Institute for Entrepreneurship Education. The Institute will serve to foster the growth and development of entrepreneurship education in Illinois and provide programs and training materials in order to better prepare teaching personnel.

-Coroner Training (SB 504)—Requires that all coroners in the state of Illinois successfully complete a coroner's training program to be administered by the Illinois Local Government Law Enforcement Officers Training Board. If a coroner fails the program, the proper county board will then be notified.

-Farm Lemon Law (SB 454)—Creates a "Farm Implement Buyer Protection Act" which establishes a minimum warranty period and provides buyers with other rights to protect against costly delays caused by repeated breakdowns. This measure is similar to the "lemon law" for new car buyers that passed the General Assembly in 1983.

-State Fossil (HB 321)—Allows school children to vote on whether or not the Tullimonstrum Gregarium should be declared the official state fossil.

The Lake County Sheriff's Dept. and Crime Stoppers are seeking information on a series of "Semi-Trailer" burglaries which occurred in August and September of this year during the early morning hours at Central Transport Company, located on Kenosha Rd., near 21st, Zion.

Person or persons unknown broke into trailers and took all types of miscellaneous items from food to auto parts.

Anyone having information about this crime or any other felony crime or felony fugitive, contact Crime Stoppers at (312) 662-2222.

Information resulting in an arrest and indictment can result in a cash reward of up to $1,000.

Callers need not give their name.

Walsh gets most votes while Zeien edges Dahl

Records show that approximately 15 percent of Lake County's voters turned out for the Nov. 3 school board election. There were five candidates vying for three seats on the Antioch High School Board of Education on Tuesday.

Incumbents Frank Walsh, Jr. and Michael Zeien kept their seats with newcomer Jan Ranney, formerly an Emmons Board of Education member, taking the other seat and coming in second in the balloting.

Challenger Laurel Dahl, just four votes behind Zeien, lost, while Paul Ashley was the lowest vote getter, garnering over 200 votes less than Dahl.

Walsh received the most votes with 950, closely followed by Ranney with 942. Zeien regained his seat with a narrow margin lead over Dahl, 862 to 858. Ashley received 618 votes.

Petkus top vote getter at Emmons

In an uncontested race for the three open seats on the Emmons Grade School Dist. 33 Board of Education, the leading vote getter was John Petkus with 118, followed by Sandy Steffenburg with 111 and Pam Pierson with 106.

Pierson has been on the Emmons Board for six years and Steffenburg is a former board member.

Heath, Oddson, Eichhorn win

With four running for the three open seats on Antioch Grade School Dist. 34's Board of Education, Jacquelin Bonovitz, Lindenhurst, emerged as the loser.

Incumbent Gail Heath was the leading vote getter with 564, followed by newcomer Kathryn Oddson with 529.

Another newcomer to the board, Fred Eichhorn, garnered 515 votes, leading Bonovitz who received 302 votes by a large margin.

There were no issues involved in the election, with community service and additional school program goals quoted by candidates.

The only election issued posed by district electors was the proposed school district restructure towards which all the candidates adopted a wait and see attitude.

Millburn voters OK bonds

When Millburn School students return to classes following their next summer vacation, they will be attending a bigger building.

Voters, by a 177-120 vote, approved a $1.8 million bond issue. The school will use the bonds to build an addition and remodel existing facilities.

"The people in the community saw the need for it," Supt. Lee Smithey said.

A number of factors were involved in the passage of the referendum.

"We had an strong citizens' group that did an outstanding job. We also had a committed board of education," Smithey said.

According to the time frame presented by the district, the bonds prepared in December. Bids for the project will be in February and March.

Construction is expected to begin in the spring.

The new construction area will consist of 15,225 square feet and the remodeled area 14,320 square feet. Eight classrooms, two special education rooms, band storage area, restrooms and bleachers with a capacity of 300 are included in the project.

In the board election, voters chose Susan Paparigian and Paul Phillips. Paparigian had 218 votes, Phillips 190, Eppner 186 and David Olszak had 126 votes.

Gardner leads balloting

Incumbent Cynthia Gardner was far and away the leading vote getter in the Dist. 157 election on Tuesday, receiving 543 votes, 73 more votes than the other nearest candidate.

There were six candidates running for the three open seats on the Richmond Burton High School Board of Education with no real issues and community service quoted by all the candidates.

Cheryl Steadman, the other incumbent running, was the second highest vote getter with 470 and the other winner, challenger Susan Dubs, received 367 votes.

The losers were William Rogers with 366, Craig Deering with 350 and Judith Boyer with 288.

SPORTS BRIEFS

Basketball begins

College of Lake County basketball players, many of whom played at the old armory building in Waukegan, had a chance to refine their skills Saturday.

CLC hosted its second alumni game at its Grayslake gym. It was an informal affair with no fouls, no timeouts or screaming coaches. Several players returned to remember their old days as Lancers.

Among those returning was Joe Walls, who scored 55 and 57 points for CLC in back-to-back games for the Lancers in the early 70's.

Everything starts for real Nov. 13 at CLC when the Lancers host their own "tip-off" classic.

The CLC women, under direction of new coach Angela Kyle, open their season against Joliet Nov. 13.

Practice started this week for girls teams throughout Lake County and officially begins Nov. 8 for the boys.

Mundelein coach Dennis Kessel is starting a bit earlier (although perfectly legal) than most. A in Kentucky, the Mustangs have slated their first practice for the stroke of midnight Nov. 9.

Top young players

No one knows if any future Dick Butkuses or Jim McMahons are wearing the uniforms of the Grayslake Colts football Pee Wee team, but opponents must be thinking so. The Colts, under the direction of coaches Terry Fasano, Tony Farina, Steve Konce, Gus Ponce and Jerry Ming were 7-0. The team advanced to the Colt league playoffs Nov. 8 with a chance to meet in the title game with another win.

Team members were: Lucas Bolton, Neil Becker, Bobby Farina, Nick Ridge, Jason Ming, Scott Nemiro, Chris Schwinn, Mark Kropiewiec, Bryan Fasano, Chris Janssen, Casey Bartold, Todd Elfert and Scott and Ken Grasser. Also, Sean Scholnick, Eddie Pak, Mitchell Carre, Justin Ponce, John Hall, Mike and Mark Struweit, Kevin Eckinstahler, Nathan Nyland, Scott Schriptide and Nick Babcock.

Final performances

The last week of the regular season featured several stellar performances by seniors hoping to end their careers on strong notes.

Warren quarterback Derek Shelton threw for more than 200 yards in Warren's 40-30 win over Foxton. Another senior, Dave Davis, scored two touchdowns for the Blue Devils.

Stevenson's Chris Holder scored four touchdowns in the Patriots' 46-14 whipping of Mundelein.

Antioch's David Wick had three touchdowns and 144 yards in 21 carries in the Sequoia's 29-19 win at Niles North.

Best spikers

Lake Zurich, Round Lake and Johnsburg all had two players selected for Northwest Suburban Conference's all-conference volleyball team.

Lake Zurich placed senior Jon Landphair and Lisa Hupochak on the team. Landphair was an all-conference selection.

Sophomore Cynthia Danner was a unanimous pick for the Panthers. Danner Krazy, a senior, also made the team.

Johnsburg senior Caroline Miller and junior Stephanie May were selected for May, a junior, was the most all-conference selection and she was the best at a non-playing job.

Tough defense

Lake Zurich linebacker Troy Hines (85) leads defensive charge as Johnsburg's Erik Mellum fights for yardage. Bears' defensive performances is one of the major reasons why Lake Zurich made playoffs for first time with 6-3 record. Lake Zurich has shutout two of its final three opponents.

Comeback complete: Bears in playoffs

by DAN BECKER

If somebody asked what the Lake Zurich Bears would be doing in November, many people would have said the team would be reflecting upon another season of mistakes and losses. Guess what Lake Zurich...the long-called "Bad News Bears" are in the playoffs.

After a decisive, and much needed win against Wauconda on Friday, the Bears will be running into the playoffs with a full head of steam, after outscoring their last two opponents 69-6.

The major difference between last year's 2-7 team and the new Bears, which romped to a 6-3 season, 5-2 in conference play, according to Lake Zurich Head Coach Wayne Kuklinski, is the attitude of the team.

"It's really difficult comparing the teams from last year and this year. We have 21 returning players this year, 11 of which are starters. The biggest factors which I can see for our successful year is the leadership quality and the increased maturity of the team," Kuklinski said.

Just like the Minnesota Twins shaking their baseball caps in tension filled moments, the Bears may have started their own superstition this year.

"Throughout the past four years, we never won a game under the lights. This year we got some lights, and we're in the playoffs. I'm not sure if that means anything, but we are in the playoffs," he said.

In the team's second game of the year, the Bears lost a 7-0 game to Cary-Grove. That's their playoff opponent.

"We are a much more improved team now, than when we played them in September. We we're not happy with the game at all. It seemed that in the beginning of the season, we never played a complete game. We either played a good first quarter, or first half. But we did not play hard throughout the entire game. When we lost to Marengo, it became apparent to the players that we are a better team than the way we played. We came back that next week and played Grant. That was the first complete game, we played," he added.

That "complete game" was a 24-0 shutout for the Bears.

"At the onset of the season we won a couple of games, but it was nothing consistent. We had to get things going on our side if we wanted to stay competitive. And we did by winning the following three games. Hopefully we'll win the next couple of games," he said.

The Bears routed Wauconda on Friday, 49-0 in another "complete game." The Bears scored seven points in the first quarter and 14 in each of the remaining three quarters.

"We never let up," he ended.

Numbers don't add up for Bulldogs

by STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

The celebration for Grant's football team did not last long.

Yes, there were high fives and loud music was being played in the Grant lockerroom following a 10-7 win over Grayslake at Paul G. Lewis Field Friday.

But the goal the Bulldogs were all aiming for - a return to the state playoffs - did not happen. A mid-season loss to Lake Zurich coupled with a loss to a weak non-conference team in McHenry combined to keep Grant, 6-3, out of the post-season fun.

"I don't know why. I tried to call the state but I could not get any answers. They took Lake Zurich and Montini," Grant coach Mike Rogowski said.

Rogowski estimated that the Bulldogs finished with 33 points for the playoffs. The cut-off for the Class 4a post-season tournament was 36.

So while Northwest Suburban Conference champion Marian Central (Class 2A), Marengo (Class 3A) and Lake Zurich (Class 4A) represented the NWSC Wednesday, the Bulldogs stayed home, getting ready for basketball or wrestling seasons.

Although not making the playoffs, the Bulldogs can leave the '87 season with two strong performances. Grant shellshocked Round Lake 27-0 last week before keeping its playoff hopes alive at least for a few hours with the win over Grayslake.

"For the last two games, we've played some good football," Rogowski said.

Grant running back Kevin Frystak watched from the sidelines with a thigh injury as Clint Morely and Dave Essler teamed up to lead Grant's first-half offense. Morely finished with 46 yards in 12 carries and Essle had 77 yards in 16 tries. "We did not know Kevin would not play until just before game time when he could not run in the gym. Morely never played much, but stepped in and did a great job," Rogowski said.

Grant's defense and special teams play led to both scores.

A fumble recovery by John Mazur gave Grant the ball at the Grayslake 17. After a run gained four yards, Essler scored Grant's only touchdown on a 13-yard run for a 6-0 lead. Dave Rudkin's extra point gave Grant a 7-0 lead with 6:03 left in the first quarter.

'Next year' beckons for RL after loss in season finale

Round Lake and Johnsburg both finished the football season with losses, but the Panthers can look at a bright side.

Trailing 24-6 to Marengo, Round Lake finished the season on an emotional high by scoring the game's final touchdown on a four-yard run by quarterback Todd Collis. Marengo, which made the Class 3A playoffs, won the game, though, 24-12.

Johnsburg's seven-week slump continued at home against Marian Central as the Skyhawks were crushed by the league champion Hurriances 41-0.

The loss dropped Round Lake's record to 3-6, 2-5 in the Northwest Suburban Conference. Afterwards, coach Mike Dunn praised his team's efforts.

"We had some key injuries and our league is were good. But our players played each week with a lot of pride and courage. With the exception of the Grant game (a 27-0 loss), our kids played well. We're looking forward to next year," Dunn said.

The Round Lake coach also had praise for individuals such as QB Collis and Laphonso Woods.

Marengo used its strength upfront to create holes for a powerful running game. Tony Kunde scored on a two-yard run and booted a second-half field goal to put the game away.

The host Indians scored first following an 80-yard march in the first quarter. Quarterback Dan Wilke scored from one-yard out for the first score.

Round Lake, though, appeared to have momentum on its side soon after that. Collis connected with Aaron Meeke for a 28-yard pass that set up the Panthers' first score. Meeke then scored from the one.

However, a run by Woods on a two-point attempt failed and Marengo still led 7-6.

Marengo enjoyed the better of it in field position for the rest of the night.

Your Kids Have Friends In High Places.

When kids are scared or hurt, and there's no one else around, there ought to be someone nearby who cares. Well, we care. And we're often nearby.

So, in 1985, our 18,000 Commonwealth Edison employees became the E-Team.

The idea was to help kids like Jason Jerde, who suffered a head injury in a bicycle accident in DeKalb. Fortunately, lineman Mark Minnihan was working in the area. He radioed for an ambulance and stayed with the boy until it arrived.

Nothing extraordinary. Just a little care and concern.

But President Reagan didn't see it quite that way.

When he was told about the program, he awarded the E-Team a citation for finding innovative private solutions to public problems.

Talk about friends in high places.

Critical goal-line stand gives Antioch winning season at 5-4

Antioch quarterback Jon DeBernardis and Niles North quarterback Eric Slowik passed up and down the field for 650 yards Saturday.

But in the end, it was a goal-line stand which allowed the Sequoits to prevail 28-19 and finish the season with a 5-4 record.

"This is the first time that the seniors have finished on the winning side of the ledger. We were an overtime loss to Stevenson and a two-point conversion against Warren away from the playoffs. These kids have come a long way," Antioch coach Steve Wapon said.

Antioch was leading by a slim 21-19 margin heading into the final three minutes. Niles North, after taking the ball from their own 34, moved it to the Antioch seven for what looked like a sure go-ahead touchdown. But somebody forgot to tell the Antioch defenders.

"It was one of those true goal-line stands. It ended up saving the game," Wapon said.

The first stellar play from the Antioch defense came when Rick Price knocked down a Slowik pass. After a pass to Mike Dietz brought the Vikings down to the Antioch one,

Steve Wapon

Price and Doug Slazes teamed up to stop Slowik and prevent the Niles North touchdown.

Slowik came into the game as one of the top passers in the state. He finish with 22 completions in 41 attempts for 186 yards.

"You don't stop Slowik, you try to slow him down," Wapon said.

Offensively for Antioch, Wapon was impressed with the play of sophomore quarterback DeBernardis.

"He had his best game ever as a sophomore quarterback," Wapon said.

DeBernardis completed seven of 14 passes for 136 yards and had one touchdown and no interceptions. Brad Nauman was a frequent recipient of DeBernardis's completions, catching five for 121 yards.

Running back David Wick completed a successful Antioch career with 144 yards in 28 carries, a 5.1 average. Wick also had three TD's and one two-point conversion run.

The game went back and forth from the start.

Niles North struck first for a 7-0 lead as Slowik connected with Seth Novoselsky for a 10-yard TD strike.

Antioch went ahead when Wick scored the first of his touchdowns on a three-yard run in the second quarter. Wick then ran in a two-point conversion for an 8-7 Antioch lead with 6:38 left in the first half.

An interception by Ryan Coskey set up Antioch's first second-half score. After taking over at Niles North's 36, Wick plunged home for the final yard for a 14-7 lead with 5:30 left in the third quarter.

Niles North came right back, scoring three minutes later. Novoselski tallied on a 11-yard run, bringing the Vikings to within one at 14-13. A try for two points failed.

Wick scored Antioch's next touchdown on a 10-yard pass from DeBernardis with 9:29 left in the game.

"DeBernardis did an outstanding job of scrambling," Wapon said of the pass.

Niles came to within two points again when Slowik teamed up with Steve Sand for a 45-yard pass. Once again, though, the two-point conversion failed and Antioch still led 21-19.

After the goal-line stand, Niles North conceded an Antioch score when Branden Hannigan tallied from eight yards out.

Price led Antioch tacklers with six solo tackles and knocked down three passes. He also had an assist. Doug Slazes had six tackles, two knockdowns and an assist.

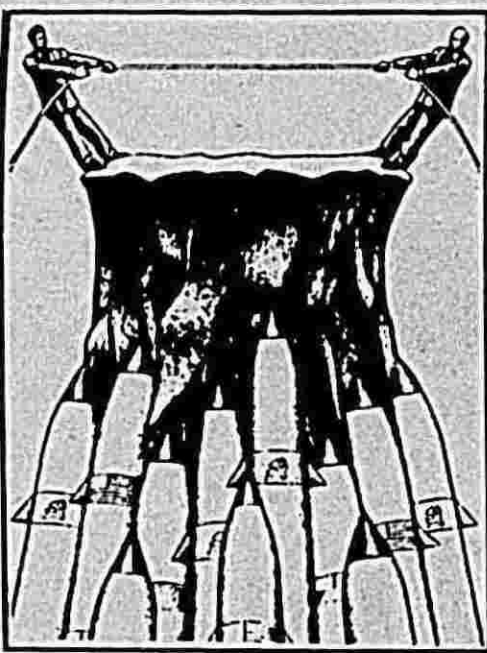

Strong passing

According to the Illinois High School Assn., the following stars are in the record books as top high school quarterbacks: Tom Tomlinson (Argo, 1983-85, 5,045 yards); Paul Sauer (Casey, 1984-85 4,757); Jeff Pruaster (Atkinson, 193-85 4,750); Greg Bradshaw (Woodstock, 1982-83) 4,626 and Art Hartmann (Hampshire, 1976-79) 4,331.

Talking strategy

Carmel misses chance for playoff but gains winning season

Carmel's football team finished with its second straight winning season with a 5-4 record, but for while at least, that is not what the Corsairs are thinking about.

But when time heals the wounds of a 19-0 loss to St. Patrick which kept Carmel out of the playoffs, that will be the highlight of the 1987 season.

"We bounced back from 1-3 and some real diversity real well. Overall, that's what I'll remember," Carmel coach Mike Fitzgibbons said.

The Corsairs came into the game against the East Suburban Catholic Conference powers off a three-game win streak. Critical turnovers gave the Shamrocks a two-touchdown lead by halftime and the Corsairs just could not catch up.

"They did what they wanted to do. They'll be a good team in the playoffs. They're a good defensive team and they have a lot of weapons," Fitzgibbons said of the Shamrocks.

The hosts defense held Carmel's top threat, running back Donell Foster to just 36 yards in 15 carries. "We could not sustain anything offensively," Fitzgibbons said.

Carmel was held to 41 yards rushing while St. Patrick had 197. Carmel was held to six first downs.

Carmel received the opening kickoff but fumbled on the second play. Rob Koseor, though, picked off a Terry Cameron pass to give Carmel the ball back.

Later in the quarter, the Corsairs had to punt and Curtis Lipsey, a senior, returned it 50 yards for an apparent touchdown. That was nullified, though, because of a clipping penalty. St. Pats' first score came on a fourth-and-three play when Fernando Cervantes caught a three-yard slant pass from Cameron. The extra point gave the hosts a 7-0 lead with 2:09 left in the first quarter.

Dan Mudd returned the kickoff on a nice run to the hosts 15. Alden Zimlich, though, missed wide left on a 12-yard field goal try.

"It was a good, smart play to go for the points," Fitzgibbons said.

Cervantes scored his second touchdown in the second quarter. This time, he caught a 13-yard pass from Cameron. Cameron was apparently tackled by Carmel defenders, but eluded the Corsairs and completed the pass. The try for two points on a run failed and St. Pats led 13-0 at halftime.

A fumbled punt led to the Shamrocks' third score, coming in the fourth quarter. Dave Vaughan capped off the effort with an 11-yard run.

A Mike King to Koseor pass set up Carmel's last chance to avert a shutout in the final quarter. Koseor, though, dropped quarterback Thad Sutter's pass for a touchdown in the end zone.

Panthers, Patriots notch volleyball regional titles

Four area volleyball teams advanced to regional finals and two made it to the sectional level.

Round Lake and Stevenson both won regional championships, Round Lake at Antioch and Stevenson at Highland Park. Warren and Mundelein, though, were eliminated in regional title matches at Waukegan East and Mundelein, respectively.

For Round Lake, the Panthers' 15-8, 4-15, 15-10 win marked the first-ever volleyball regional title.

"We wanted it this year," coach Brian Brown said of his team's determination.

The win improved the Panthers' record to 18-9-1. Antioch, upset winners over Grant in the regional's first round, was 5-22.

Brown said one of the keys to the win was his team's reaction to the second-game loss.

"We did not get down after the second-game loss. The seniors took over in the third game," Brown said.

Denise Kraly and Cindy Donner had four kills each. Brenda Leslie led Round Lake in serving with nine points while Donner had eight.

At Mundelein, the host

Mustangs upended arch-rival Carmel to advance to the final but could not get anything going against Libertyville. The Mustangs lost 8-15, 5-15.

Warren, meanwhile, appeared to have the match against Zion in the bag when it had a match point in game three. But Zion got the ball back, served two more points, and the Blue Devils were sent home disappointed. After winning the first game 15-11, Warren lost the second 15-9 after blowing a 7-0 lead. In game three, Warren played catch-up and went ahead at 15-14 before Zion eventually won 17-15.
